Wait Mayor's Signature.

It was stated last night that actual work on north side street repairs must await the signature of the mayor on the council measures, but Commissioner Wolfe stated that he was making preparations to push the work with all speed as soon as word of the approval is received. The condition of the pavements in Rogers Park and other north side districts has become so bad that it is considered an emergency situation.

Ald. Jacob M. Arvey (34th), chairman of a subcommittee of the finance committee which brought the paving contract controversy to a head, announced last night that the subcommittee will continue its investigation of all aspects of vehicle tax expenditures.

CROWD ATTACKS NEGRO WHO BEAT AN ELECTRICIAN

Angered by the probably fatal assault of a colored man upon Fred Greize, 35, of 4408 North Lockwood avenue, at Maxwell and South Halsted streets last night, several bystanders seized George Perdy, 27, of 1148 Rhodes avenue, and beat him before the Maxwell street police arrived. Greize was taken to the West side hospital. There it was learned he had a skull fracture. The two men quarreled after Perdy had picked up a wrench belonging to Greize. Perdy hit Greize on the head. Perdy was held by the Maxwell street police. Greize is an electrician employed by the Commonwealth Edison company.

AUTOPARKING RACKET SHIFTED TO NAVY PIER

Self-appointed automobile guards who collect tips for allowing motorists to park along the streets were on the job yesterday at Navy pier after having been chased out of Lincoln park by Supt. Emil A. W. Johnson. They were attaching to cars the same tags as they used in the park. Drivers who are willing to pay a dime or quarter to one of the watchmen may park their machines along the street car tracks on the approach to the pier, but those who object park their cars at the entrance and walk a mile to the end of the pier.

ELLER LAWYERS SEEK TO QUASH INDICTMENTS

Judge O'Connor Agrees to Preside at Trial.

Judge John M. O'Connor of the Appellate court consented yesterday to preside at the trial of Morris Eller, boss of the Bloody Twentieth ward; his son, Judge Emanuel Eller, and seventeen of their political followers, all charged with conspiracy to kidnap, to slug, to steal votes, and to murder.

Judge O'Connor, who will sit in the Criminal court for the period of the trial, announced he would hear preliminary motions by the Eller lawyers tomorrow morning in the courtroom of Chief Justice William V. Bruns of the Criminal court.

Will Ask Trial at Once. Attorney Michael Ahern, who, with Attorneys Samuel Golan, Ben Short, Thomas D. Nash, and George Guenther, will appear for the defense, said he would present a motion for an immediate trial and he will also plead, he said, that the indictment be quashed. The same objections to the legality of the special grand jury which were overruled by Judge Frank Comerford will be presented to Judge O'Connor, Mr. Ahern said.

A demand for an immediate trial was made before Judge O'Connor yesterday, when Attorney Ahern and David D. Stansbury first special assistant attorney general, were summoned into a conference in the judge's chambers.

Loesch Out of City. Prosecutor Stansbury said he would be pleased to try the Eller case, but that the press of their general investigation, which has only been started and is to be directed toward many other parts of the city, was so great that he doubted whether the trial could proceed before the middle of September.

Special Prosecutor Frank J. Loesch is out of the city for a rest, and Edwin J. Raber, special assistant attorney general upon whom a great share of the prosecution will rest, has suffered the effects of overwork following a recent operation, Mr. Stansbury pointed out.

A date for the trial will be set tomorrow, Judge O'Connor indicated. Following his announcement that Morris Eller would claim immunity from the testimony he gave to the special grand jury, Attorney Ahern yesterday changed his statement, and said Eller was still waiving immunity. Eller has nothing to fear, his lawyer said.

The prosecutors said that even if Eller, when he is on trial, seeks to bar the admission of the testimony he gave, he will not succeed. Eller in three signed letters agreed to waive immunity, and the first question asked him before the special grand jury was whether he desired to testify voluntarily and would waive immunity.

Police Are Questioned.

Special Assistant Attorney General Ferre C. Watkins yesterday questioned twenty of 250 policemen who have been summoned to explain why they were given special assignments just prior to the primary. Many politicians were given police bodyguards, it is charged, and gambling and vice houses were guarded by city policemen. Capt. Watkins declined to com-

U. S. MILLIONAIRE TO REMAKE THE CANADIAN TOWN OF HIS BOYHOOD

Cleveland, O., Aug. 6.—(P)—Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland millionaire banker, utilities operator and most recently prominent figure in the steel industry, intends to remake his home town in Nova Scotia at his own expense.

Eaton was born in 1853 at Pughwash, a quiet little fishing village of 150 persons on the Nova Scotian coast in Longfellow's Evangeline country. He came to Cleveland at the age of 19, and became absorbed in building up a fortune in banking and public utilities.

A short time ago Eaton went back to Pughwash for a visit. He found the village a lot quieter than he had expected and began to plan to improve the town. He sent a letter to Pughwash proposing to pay for the cost of making the village more attractive, especially to tourists, and asked for estimates of what was wanted. He suggested straightening out of the main street, laying out a quiet little park, and the building of the town's first hotel.

ment on the results of the questioning. Prosecutor Watkins also attended the drawing of a panel of 100 voters, from which the next special grand jury will be drawn next Monday. This jury, it was said, will deliver particularly into the affairs of the 27th ward, headed by Homer K. Galpin; into the conditions in the near south side wards, controlled by Oscar De Priest, Dan Jackson, and Ald. Berthold A. Cronson, and into the pay rolls of Corporation Counsel Ettelson.

Arraign Alleged Bomber. Howard E. Reddy, investigator for the Sanitary district, and the Crowe candidate for committeeman of the 14th ward, was arraigned on a charge of bombing yesterday morning before Judge William E. Heald. Reddy was charged by Special Assistant Attorney General William Haynes with having bombed the home of William Wood, blind Negro political representative in the ward of First Assistant Corporation Counsel James Breen, who defeated Reddy. The case was continued until Aug. 25.

Coroner Oscar Wolff, who had been summoned before the jury with records of persons to whom he issued special deputy coroner's stars, announced last night that he had issued stars of a new design to all his regular deputies, and had cancelled all other stars ever issued during his regime. The coroner said he had notified the police department to arrest all persons wearing the old stars, and to charge them with impersonating a county officer. The new stars are numbered from one to twenty, Wolff said.

CARRY STREET WIDENING ROW TO HIGH COURT

La Salle Objectors Take New, Legal Move.

The Moody Bible institute and thirty-one other objectors yesterday announced they will go to the Supreme court, trying to block the widening of La Salle street between Ohio and Eugene streets. Announcement of the action that may defeat five years of city effort was made by Attorney Eugene H. Dupe, before Judge I. L. Weaver in the County court.

The plans call for widening La Salle street to 120 feet from Washington to Ohio streets and to 108 feet from Ohio street north to Eugene. Attorney Dupe and counsel for the board of local improvements were in court for a hearing on awards to property owners for land to be appropriated and buildings to be damaged by the widening. The Moody Bible institute, which pays no taxes but owns two blocks of La Salle street frontage, was seeking, in negotiations with the city, to obtain $500,000 more than the city thought fair, it was said.

Irregularities in Ordinance? The legal objections are technical, alleging among other things that there were irregularities in the ordinance which authorized the improvements also in the handling of preliminary work by the board of local improvements. Attorney Gottard A. Dahlberg, representing the board, said he hoped to uphold the legality of the project and get a ruling from the Supreme court sustaining the findings of the lower tribunal. Furthermore, property owners who have remodeled their buildings to conform with the street's new dimensions would be in danger of losing all compensation from the city.

Widened La Salle street is to furnish a new traffic artery, connecting the wide boulevards of Lincoln park with the loop and greatly relieving congestion on Michigan avenue and the Michigan avenue bridge. The cost of the widening between Ohio and Eugene street is estimated at $4,520,000.

Start Moving Big Building. House movers yesterday began the actual moving of the 15,000 ton Bowman Dairy company plant at Ontario and La Salle streets to make room for the widening of the latter. The four story brick building will be moved back about seventeen feet at an estimated cost of $125,000. Twenty-five huge jacks are used in the operation. The work on undermining the building so it could be moved began June 8.

Half Minute in Afire, 18 Hrs.

New York, Aug. 6.—Four men reached this city rather casually of their lives which they saved by a narrow margin. It was the third day of a fire in their airplane soaring above mid-ocean.

The plane was piloted by Capt. Frank J. Courtney, who was with Fred Pierce, a pilot, and two other men, E. B. Homer, a pilot, and passenger. The plane was flying over the Atlantic when it was discovered that the engine was out of the tail of a plane. Briefly, the half minute flying boat, after it was downed, was a bank of smoke as midnight was reached. It was a Courtney was at the cockpit when the plane was back of him, a connecting them, busy tending the motors, the cockpit.

ROSENWALD PAYS PERSONAL TAX ON $2,000,000

Assessment Is Highest in County This Year.

Julius Rosenwald, philanthropist and chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., will pay a 1928 personal property tax bill on an assessed valuation of $2,000,000, it was disclosed yesterday. This assessment, the same as last year, is the highest against any individual in Cook county, according to board of assessors clerks. His wife, Mrs. Augusta N. Rosenwald, is assessed on a $200,000 personal property valuation. The Rosenwald home is at 4901 Ellis avenue.

Other Hyde Park assessments for 1928 include that against County Treasurer George F. Harding on $2,500. His home at 4553 Lake Park avenue houses one of the best private collections of art and antiques in America.

Assessor Listed for $2,000. Charles Krutchoff, a member of the board of assessors, who resides at 4906 Drexel boulevard, is in the personal property books for a valuation of $2,000. Aid, Berthold A. Cronson [4th], nephew of Corporation Counsel Samuel E. Ettelson, is assessed on $300. He resides at the Wilmington hotel, 4901 Drexel boulevard. Municipal Judge Howard Hayes, who has a ten room house at 4840 Kimbark avenue, will pay a personal property tax on a $500 valuation. Probate Judge Henry Horner, who resides at 1225 Madison Park, is in the books for $500 as contrasted with $1,000 last year.

Chief Justice Joseph Sabath of the Superior court has no taxable personal property, according to the assessors' 1928 record. At his suite at the Chicago Beach hotel last night the judge said the entry is an error that he cannot explain, since he has always heretofore paid a tax.

Auto Few Months Old. "The personal property schedule must have been delivered to the hotel while I was out of the city," he said. "Of course, living at a hotel, I don't own much, but I always have paid a little. My automobile? I just got it a few months ago."

Former Federal Judge Keneaw Mountain Landis, who also resides in the Chicago Beach hotel, is assessed on a valuation of $10,500. This is $3,000 more than his personal property valuation last year. Mrs. Fanny Byfield, also in the hotel, will pay on $225. Alfred Rothschild, another guest, is down for $450.

Another blank in the assessors' records appears after the name of Gregory T. Van Meter, assistant to County Treasurer Harding. He resides at 5617 Blackstone avenue. Albert W. Harris, 4923 Kimbark avenue, chairman of the board of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, has personal property valued by the assessors at $150,000. John A. McCormick, 4940 Greenwood boulevard, vice president of the Chicago Trust company, is down for $49,500, and his wife for $105,000. William C. Cummings, 4900 Woodlawn avenue, president of the Drovers National bank, is assessed on $1,500.

Assessor Denied Entrance. At the fifteen room mansion of Frank G. Croissant, 5616 Drexel boulevard, the assessor was denied entrance to the home, according to a note in the records. The realty operator's personal property is listed at $450. Others noted in the Hyde Park district of the assessors' books will pay personal property taxes on amounts as follows: Alfred S. Trude, 4960 Drexel boulevard, $9,500; John C. Bollenbacher, president of the Chicago chapter of American Institute of Architects, 564 Blackstone avenue, $1,000; Max Epstein, capitalist and president of the General American Tank Car corporation, 4906 Drexel boulevard, $2,500.

MAN WHO BOUGHT UALE MURDER GUNS FOR CAPONE TALKS

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Parker Henderson Jr., son of a former mayor of Miami, Fla., today told a "complete story" to the King's county investigating the murder last month of Frank Yale, Brooklyn gangster, Assistant District Attorney Gallagher said tonight.

It was understood that his story was a repetition of statements he had made to the police concerning his purchase of several guns for Al Capone, Chicago gangster, in Miami before Yale's death. Detectives said that one of the guns with which Yale was killed was among those Henderson had purchased. Police said four Chicago gangsters had visited Capone in Miami shortly before Yale was slain. They left Miami ostensibly for Chicago, but left the train in Tennessee, bought an automobile and came to New York. Detectives said they had established that a shotgun used in the killing was brought here from Chicago via Miami.

SUES TO BLOCK REVALUING COOK COUNTY REALTY

Lawyer Acts in Behalf of His Stenographer.

Suit to enjoin reassessment of Cook county real estate was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Attorney William F. Struckmann. He contends the Illinois tax commission's reassessment order is illegal. He also asserts enabling legislation passed by the recent special session of the legislature is unconstitutional.

The suit is brought in the name of Mrs. Elme Erb Heldenway, a stenographer employed in the lawyer's office. Mr. Struckmann denied the suit was of a political nature.

Says Public Is Unaware.

"Are not most taxpayers in favor of the reassessment?" Attorney Struckmann was asked. "The public doesn't realize what it will lead to," he replied. "A reassessment will shift the burden of taxation from the shoulders of the loop property owners to the small home owners."

"Will your client suffer from a reassessment?" he was asked. "I don't know," he retorted. "Defendants in the suit are the board of assessors, the board of review, county treasurer, county clerk, and the board of county commissioners. The pleadings set up that the reassessment will cost approximately $500,000. That is attacked as an illegal expenditure of public funds because of the following arguments:

1. No valid order can be entered by the state tax commission affecting assessments for any subsequent years.
2. The commission has no power, jurisdiction nor authority to review, revise, correct or change any individual assessment made by any local assessor.
3. The commission's order and the special session's legislation pretend to authorize the taking of property (collection of taxes) without due process of law, in violation of the United States and the Illinois constitutions.
4. The bills delegate to the state tax commission power to classify taxable property for purposes of general taxation, contrary to the state constitution.
5. The bills delegate judicial and legislative powers to the tax commission in violation of the state constitution.

Attorney Struckmann said he will go before Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch with a motion for a temporary injunction either Wednesday or Thursday. On Wednesday, a special subcommittee of the county board is scheduled to meet with members of the board of assessors and board of review to try to solve the problem of financing the reassessment.

Meanwhile, sale of property for delinquent general taxes was started in the County building yesterday. At the same time, approximately 3,000 taxpayers jammed the office of County Treasurer George F. Harding to pay on special assessments. The special assessment payments started yesterday and will become delinquents on Oct. 1. Official figures indicate taxes are delinquent this year on approximately 250,000 of the 1,000,000 parcels of real estate in Cook county.

Sale of tax bills is theoretically a public auction. Yesterday's auction was attended by less than a dozen men, all professional tax buyers. They pay the tax bill on a piece of property. The owners then have two years to redeem their realty, but they must pay 12 per cent interest for the first six months and 12 per cent for the second half year to the tax buyer in order to clear the title to the land.

3 BANDITS BEAT GIRL CASHIER, BUT OBTAIN ONLY $20

Three bandits who knocked down and robbed Miss Doris Isford, 21, of 9617 Escanaba avenue, yesterday and then escaped in a car which they found parked a few feet away, got $20 for their efforts. Ruby Cigar company, 9623 Baltimore avenue, was carrying a deposit envelope to a neighboring bank when she was accosted by the men in front of 9709 Commercial avenue. In the envelope were checks for $5,000 and $20 in cash. They threw the checks from the car, a block away and shortly after abandoned the automobile.

CITY'S COLORFUL
PAST REPAINTED
BY OLD SETTLERSVeteran Chicagoans Hold 54th Annual Picnic.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Chicago had cause yesterday to give thanks for her colorful and honorable past. For those who were young when Chicago was miscegenated by the chapters of the city's history as they talked things over in the grove at Riverview park. They were assembled at the fifty-fourth annual Old Settlers' picnic, held under the auspices of the Chicago Turn Gemeinde.

Silvery haired Uncle Dick Evans of La Grange, whose years are 91 and whose memories of Chicago go back almost that far, merited the laurels of popularity that crowned his brow throughout the afternoon. It was his gala attendance at the famous gathering, and he carried off the medal for the oldest foreign born inhabitant of Cook county.

Knew City Way Back When.

Born in Devonshire, England, Uncle Dick was brought to this country by his parents at the age of ten months. He was continually the center of a little knot of auditors yesterday, and was in his element as he talked of the days of spelling bees and singing schools, of skating expeditions and sleighing parties.

"I knew Chicago," he told the group, "before it had a railroad, a paved street, a trolley car or a telephone."

Two years ago his sister, Mrs. Jane Comors of 3140 Monroe street, carried off the prize for the oldest person present. She is three years his junior.

But for all that Uncle Dick didn't let in for the dancing contest, though, there were those older than he who did. One was Mrs. Johanna Alm of 4129 North Spaulding avenue, 94 years old, a slender and spirited little great-grandmother, who, as usual, won applause for her waltzing. She has six children, twenty-six grandchildren, ten great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Five Generations Present.

Mrs. Sophie Maury of 5332 Glenwood avenue was awarded a medal for having brought along with her representatives of five generations, of which she is the senior. She has lived in Chicago since 1852.

L. S. Oliver of Maywood and Mrs. Catherine Barry of 515 North Laramie street were the oldest continuous residents of Chicago and Cook county, who were present. Oliver came here in 1844 and Mrs. Barry in 1845.

Mrs. L. Bron, born in Holland, was the oldest foreign born woman present. She came here in 1848 and lives at 517 Ogden avenue.

Oldest residents who were born in Germany proved to be John Lussen, 1078 West Harrison, in Chicago since 1852, and Amelia Grau, 1530 Melrose, in the city since 1850.

J. N. Wrath Oldest Employee.

The medal for the longest continuous term of service with a Chicago concern went to James N. Wrath of 1750 Summerdale avenue, who has been with the Crane company 58 years.

Otto Wellmann, who has lived continuously for 66 years in the same house at 260 Dekoven place, was the record breaker in that particular competition.

Herman and Hannah Remberg of 329 East 51st street came to Chicago in 1847. Herman is 90; Hannah, 83, and their combined ages total 173, winning for them the medal offered by the Turn Gemeinde. A loving cup was given Bertha and George Leady of 559 Bishop street, who have lived in Chicago since 1846, although they are younger. Bertha is 83 and her husband 84, totaling 167 years.

Among the G. A. R. veterans, of whom a large group were in attendance, the oldest was found to be W. L. Southworth, 909 Aldrie place, who is 91 years old and was a member of the Chicago light artillery, company A.

WASHERWOMAN'S STATUS IS PUZZLE TO LAKE FOREST

Lake Forest's city council last night was unable to decide officially whether Mrs. Carrie Strom is—as she claims she is—a washerwoman, or whether she is the owner of a laundry, as her neighbor, Thomas Carroll, maintains.

Mrs. Strom lives at 341 Wisconsin avenue. Mr. Carroll, next door, maintains that she violates the law by hanging out sheets and lingerie next to his yard. He has asked that she be stopped on the ground that she is operating a commercial enterprise in a residential district.

The general opinion in the council was that Mrs. Strom is a washerwoman if she does the work herself and that she is a laundry owner if she hires any help. The police reported that several times they went to the Strom home to get evidence and that on each occasion Mrs. Strom told them that her supposed helpers were merely her nieces who had dropped in for a cup of coffee—and there was coffee on the table. So the city council, still puzzled, announced that Magistrate Edwin Burgess would have to decide.

VATICAN CHARGES
OFFICIALS BEHIND
OBREGON SLAYINGSays Church Involved to Shield Guilty.

(Copyright: 1928 By The New York Times.)

ROME, Aug. 6.—The Osservatore Romano, the official Vatican organ, summing up evidence so far gathered on the Obregon murder, says that the assassination was planned by Obregon's political opponents in the government. In order to provide an alibi, an effort was made to involve the Catholics, but the effort is failing completely in the light of ascertained facts, it says.

"Obregon's political opponents, unable to prevent his election," says the Osservatore, "gave up the weapon of the vote and prepared firearms, but Obregon's opponents were in the government to act with prudence in order to prepare an alibi. Trejo and Castro, known as laborists, were entrusted with preparing the plot. Their choice for the murder fell on José de León Toral, who, half friend and half foe with the Catholics, being related to a priest. It was necessary to make it appear that he was instigated to assassinate Obregon by the Catholics."

"Seek to Snare Church."

"This was also easy," say the Osservatore. "The designated murderer was induced to speak with the mother superior of the convent of the nuns. She, in speaking of the religious situation in Mexico, said the church would never have peace there as long as Calles or Obregon was in power. This statement, though so obvious that a child might have made it, was considered sufficient to co-involve the church in the planned murder."

"Torale was introduced into the banquet hall and a few minutes later Obregon fell, riddled by thirteen bullets. It is evident, therefore, that someone besides Toral used firearms against Obregon."

Another Person Shooting?

"Among the arrests, in fact, is Juan Escapulario, an army officer. The ministry of war immediately intervened and nobody again mentioned Escapulario, the whole blame being thrown on the Catholics."

"But the truth will out," adds the Osservatore. Sixteen nuns, who accuse Toral, state that "their mother superior together with Manuel Trejo instigated the murder of Obregon. Manuel Trejo, the laborite who gave the revolver to Toral, who was almost mad, was also present. It is he, therefore, he who wasn't mad, he who prepared the plot, and succeeded in escaping, it was he who laid this ambush."

CANADA REFUSES TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR
BRITAIN'S UNEMPLOYED

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 6.—Canada is not at all enthusiastic over the British government's announcement of its intention to send 10,000 unemployed British miners to the dominion, it was indicated here tonight when Deputy of Immigration Egan said the Canadian government would take no responsibility for the distribution and employment of such miners in Canada nor for their maintenance if unable to secure employment.

for the mother superior," says the Osservatore.

Clergy Denies Part in Crime.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 6.—(U.P.)—Blasquez Miguel de la Mora, in behalf of the episcopal subcommittee, issued a signed statement today repudiating the charge that the clergy was responsible for the murder of President Elect Alvaro Obregon.

He said the fact that one Catholic priest and one nun were involved in the crime did not mean that the clergy as a body was responsible. The statement asserted that it was publicly known that the Mother Superior Concepcion Aceveda de la Lata was mentally deranged and that several cases of insanity have been reported in her family. The mother superior was named by José de León Toral, the slayer, as having indirectly influenced him.

Fugitive Surrenders.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 6.—(U.P.)—Hope that Father Jimenez, to whom José de León Toral went to confession just before he assassinated Gen. Alvaro Obregon, might soon be found was expressed by police today after Carlos Castro had surrendered.

Castro, Father Jimenez and Manuel Trejo, from whom Toral was said to have obtained the pistol with which he killed Obregon, had been sought.

Father Jimenez and Trejo have not been seen since the assassination.

MOBS GATHERING AT RUMORS OF RADITCH'S DEATH

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 6.—(U.P.)—

Dispatches from Agram tonight said that an unfounded rumor that Stefan Raditch, Croatian peasant party leader, had died from the wounds received in the shooting affray in parliament, had drawn thousands of excited townsfolk to his villa.

Hundreds of persons have remained outside the leader's home day and night awaiting reports from the sick bed during the last five days. Specialists have been summoned from Vienna and Munich.

It is reported that the Belgrade government has drafted several Serbian regiments to prevent trouble should Raditch die. An editor was murdered in Belgrade yesterday for his utterances attacking Raditch.

HAIR TONIC TO RUM, SO TWO
GO TO PRISON

Two officers of the Shirley Laboratories, Inc., sentenced to serve a year and a day for violation of the prohibition law, began their trip to Leavenworth penitentiary last night in the custody of deputy United States marshals. They are Samuel J. Wienberg, treasurer, and Roy C. Swanson, secretary of the firm.

They were found guilty of diverting thousands of gallons of alcohol, legally obtained for the manufacture of perfumes and hair tonic, into bootleg channels. Since their conviction both had been released in bonds pending an appeal. Yesterday's action indicated, it was said, that they will not appeal.

It was rumored before the trial that Swanson had a "little black book" listing payments of $100,000 to thirty prohibition agents. That book was not produced during the trial.

It was to be expected that an hotel built on such a magnificent scale, so lavishly equipped and luxuriously appointed as Hotel Shoreland, would instantly attract Chicago's foremost families. 8 DIE AS PIECE OF PIPE WRECK TWO I. C. TRAINS Locomotive Smashes Pullmans; 52 Hurt.

Mounds, Ill., Aug. 6.—(P)—Two Illinois Central passenger trains were wrecked and eight persons killed and fifty-two injured as the result of a piece of sewer pipe falling on the track near here early today.

The Chickasaw, north bound from Cairo, hit the pipe and stopped, unhurt. The fireman, Manley Palmer, leaped from his cab to flag the south bound train, No. 2451, but was too late. Before he could stop the oncoming train it struck a kink in the track caused by the sewer pipe as it fell from a freight train.

Witnesses said the engine staggered and left the rails, striking the side of the Chickasaw. The front of the huge engine came down the line of steel cars, ripping them open and crushing their sides as if they were tin cans.

Four of Dead Identified.

The known dead are: L. A. Drennan, 40, of Mattoon, Ill., an express messenger; Mrs. Bud Snider and Joe Zdenek, both of West Orange, N. J., vaudeville actors; William Douglas, porter, and four unidentified Negro women.

Search of the wreckage continued tonight. Workers believed one or two additional bodies might be found.

Passengers on the Chickasaw told stories of a blinding flash of light at the instant of the crash, which faded and left the scene in darkness. Great clouds of dust hindered the work of extricating people from the wrecked trains.

Survivors Turn Rescuers.

Uninjured passengers who escaped from their cars smashed windows in the coaches and lifted the injured and frightened people from the wreckage. Darby Prince, a Negro Pullman porter of Chicago, used his broom to break the windows on his car and assisted eighteen people to safety.

The steel passenger coaches and Pullman sleepers were sprawled over the scene like broken egg shells. Seven of the nine coaches of the Chickasaw had turned over and lay on their sides in a ditch. The coaches of the southbound train remained upright, although some of them had hurled coaches of the other train before coming to a halt.

Louis Banks, engineer on the southbound train, and his fireman, Louis Almsadt, both stuck to their engine and were only slightly injured. The smokestack had been hurled more than one hundred feet, where it lay between the rails.

Doctors Rushed to Scene.

Trucks and special trains took the injured and dead to the hospital and morgues in Cairo, Ill. Doctors were rushed to the scene from nearby towns and wrecking crews were sent from Carbondale and Centralia, Ill., and Fulton, Ky.

The wreckage was so badly tangled that acetylene torches were used to cut the coaches apart. A salesman, who crawled from his battered sleeping car, said he had lost $9,000 in cash.

Ed Whalen, conductor of the Chickasaw, said:

"It was the most terrible thing I have ever experienced. Our train had been warned that the pipe was lying across our track, but we struck it before we had expected to. Though it knocked the pilot off the engine, we were able to stop immediately, because we were going at a slow rate of speed. Evidently, when we struck the pipe it hit a rail on the other track, throwing it out of line."

"Half a minute later, and before we could flag it, No. 2 came roaring down the right of way, sixty miles an hour."

The engine was derailed and plowed into the Pullmans of No. 16, ripping through the entire side of a number of cars, taking before it the whole tier of sleeping passengers.

"There in the darkness, made more dense by the smoke and dust, the screams of agony from the injured and the moans of the dying were awful."

Passenger Tells of Terror.

R. A. Moll of Cairo, who was a passenger on No. 16, said the accident occurred at 3:12 a. m.

"The lights went out," Moll said. "Passengers became frightened and began to shout. The dust and smoke were so thick that we almost choked. We broke out the windows and began helping the passengers in the other cars. Not many in our car were hurt."

An appeal was sent to Mounds for help. Three doctors reached the scene in an hour in a special train. Workers with acetylene torches cut into the coaches in search for bodies. Many cries of distress were heard from the wreckage.

Another northbound train arrived soon after the accident. Several cars were taken off and made into a special train to take the injured to Cairo.

Cleaver Safe in Prison.

His Federal Escorts Return

Two deputy United States marshals yesterday returned from their jaunt to Atlanta, Ga., where they had escorted Charles Cleaver to begin serving his twenty-five year term. Cleaver had done little talking before his conviction on charge of robbing a mail train of $123,000. Evergreen Park on Feb. 25, but he talked throughout the long trip, the marshals said, and regaled them with statements that he is innocent of the crime.

Falls Dead After Having Brother, Friend Arrested

Dr. Harry E. Tyson, 54, an optometrist, 6825 South Greenwood avenue, died suddenly yesterday, supposedly of heart disease, following a quarrel with his brother, Arthur Tyson. The latter and another man became so heated that Dr. Tyson called the police. They were taken to the Woodlawn police station. The arresting officers, returning to Dr. Tyson's home, found him dead.

Oberta Sues Defeated Ward Rivals; He Asks for $50,000

John Oberta, also known as Ding-bat, former pal of the gangster Al Capone, filed two $25,000 suits yesterday against Hugh Norris and Felix Kucharski. They unsuccessfully opposed him in his election as Republican committeeman of the 13th ward at the April 10 primary. Oberta, nominee for state senator, contends he has been slandered.

FRENCH LEGAL EXPERTS BELIEVE BLACKMER SAFE

Case Depends on How Perjury Is Defined.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Aug. 6.—French legal authorities say that Henry M. Blackmer, oil magnate and missing witness in the Teapot Dome case, cannot be extradited under the terms of the Franco-American extradition treaty. The treaty stipulates that perjury is extraditable, but in France perjury is only committable in court before a judge or jury as sworn testimony. When sworn statements before notaries do not constitute perjury in this country.

The American embassy has already submitted a request to Quai d'Orsay for the extradition of Blackmer. The foreign office handed over the papers in the case for examination by the ministry of justice.

Blackmer's arrest is not demanded, and the French are merely keeping the oil man under surveillance. Treasury department agents are here to take Blackmer back if he is surrendered.

James G. Archibald, Blackmer's attorney, scoffs at the idea that his client can be extradited for perjury. Blackmer is still at the seaside.

CONTEMPT CASE BALKED

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Federal income tax liens filed against the property of Harry M. Blackmer, long sought Teapot Dome scandal witness, who is resisting extradition from France, may balk one of the two steps taken by the district supreme court here to punish the oil magnate for his refusal to testify in the Sinclair-Fall conspiracy trials. Blackmer, who fled to France when the Sinclair-Doheny-Fall scandals were exposed, twice defied subpoenas directing him to return to this country to testify in the Teapot Dome conspiracy case. After the Sinclair-Fall conspiracy trial last fall, Blackmer was cited for contempt and $100,000 of his property was seized for ultimate satisfaction if he was found guilty. Trial of the contempt charge was set for early in October.

He again refused to return to the United States last spring during the second Sinclair trial, and another $100,000 of his property was ordered seized.

Tax Proceedings Intervene.
Before the second order could be executed, however, a Denver, Colo., federal grand jury indicted Blackmer for perjury when it was shown that he had failed to report or pay income taxes on his one-fourth share of the profits of the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., which figures prominently in the Teapot scandal.

Tax liens aggregating $5,498,925.78 were filed against Blackmer's holdings in New York and Denver and extradition proceedings to secure his return from France to answer the perjury were begun. Marshals armed with the local court's seizure order have been unable, it was reported to day, to find any of Blackmer's property which is not already held under the tax liens, and as a result the second contempt proceedings will be delayed pending the outcome of the extradition attempt and the perjury trial. Early in October the District Court of Appeals is expected to hand down its ruling on the appeals of Harry F. Sinclair from jail sentences for contempt of the senate and of the district supreme court.

Stewart Trial Oct. 8.
Robert W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, will appear for trial Oct. 8 under an indictment charging him with perjury in connection with the Continental Trading company's profits. Later in the month an attempt will be made to bring Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, to trial.

Magill, for ten years pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Wilmette, was accepted yesterday at a meeting of the Chicago Presbytery in the Second Presbyterian church, 20th street and Michigan avenue. 90 BROADWAY DASES OWNERS HELD FOR TRIAL

Southern Judge "Lovely" to Texas Guinan.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Judge I. H. Meekins of North Carolina held open house in the federal court here today and ninety odd night club owners and employees called. Forty-nine other invited (or indicted) guests failed to attend the soiree. It was said some of them were not properly indicted or invited.

Judge Meekins issued bench warrant invitations—good until Thursday—for the absentees, which included Helen Morgan, Tommy Guinan, and Nils Granlund. When lawyers explained some of the nightland folks had not received their notifications, the visiting jurist said the warrants would not be served until Thursday.

Texas Guinan and the eighty-nine others of the elite who "dropped in" pleaded not guilty to charges of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act and maintaining nuisances. They were received in bunches of ten or a dozen and each person was held in $1,000 bail. The date of their trial was not set, but they were told they would be notified by mail.

Texas Wears Mourning.
The courtroom was crowded when Miss Guinan swept in accompanied by her "mob" and her Monday lawyer, Walter Sollinger. Clad in

TEMPORARY U. S. INJUNCTIONS ARE PUT ON 36 PLACES

Temporary injunctions against 36 cafes, drug stores and restaurants were issued yesterday by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson after charges of violating the prohibition law had been placed against them by Assistant District Attorney Edgar B. Elder. The order restrains the managements from further violations of the Volstead act pending a hearing for permanent decrees on evidence to be submitted later.

All of the establishments named, with the exception of three, are located in Chicago; the other three being the Wilhelm farm in Lockport township, Will county, Adam Wilhelm owner, the Kay hotel, 314 Liberty street, Morris, Ill., Robert Kay, proprietor, and Old Cleaners hall, three miles west of Morris, Ill., Thomas Gartry manager.

Among those in Chicago are John O'Brien's place, 57 East Wacker drive; Central Transfer company, 172 North Wells street, and Sawed Off's place, 712 South Dearborn street.

black, a black veil thrown back over a black hat, she selected a seat in the middle of the room. Her rose red rouged cheeks were vivid against her somber ensemble, the only other touch of color being a rope of "pearls" which hung almost to her knees and clanked alarmingly as she slid into her pew. Moe Levy, her favorite bondsman, arrived in his blue and white sport shoes.

"Well," said Tex to no one in particular, "they haven't got anything on the ill' girl. I'm just an old em-ployee."

Waiting her turn, she heard Miss Morgan's name called out. There was a break in the procedure when the Ziegfeld star failed to respond. La Guinan made inquiries.

"Warrant!" she said in a shocked voice. "That poor child, she ain't guilty of nothing. Will they put out a warrant for Brother Tommy, too?"

They do just that.

They did, and furthermore, process servers appeared and began passing out summonses in civil actions to those awaiting an opportunity to plead not guilty to the federal indictments. Texas was getting bored. She has been to court before, but she smiled her best hostess smile when she heard her name called.

Judge Meekins smiled back. Mr. Sollinger pleaded not guilty for his client. The judge, still smiling, looked at Miss Guinan and turned to his clerk.

"Bail, $1,000," announced the book-keeper.

Miss Guinan snickered behind her hand and whispered to the reporters: "Now, let's all go home and get some sleep."

Judge "Just Lovely."

Outside New York's best known hostess voiced her indignation at length. "I didn't know this was an invitation affair. I read about it in the papers and came down. But, say, it wasn't so bad. Judge Meekins is a lovely fellow."

Inside Judge Meekins was hearing the last batch of pleadings. He appeared in good humor, whispering sociably from time to time with a little group of friends seated near the bench. J. Arthur Adler, lawyer for Miss Morgan and Granlund, told the court he would produce his clients before Thursday.

Meanwhile six more padlocks clicked—four in Brooklyn and Long Island and two in Manhattan. One of the Manhattan padlocks orders issued by Federal Judge Mack was unique.

It closes the F. & F. lunch room for a year and carries an injunction against Richard Maters, lessor of the place. This is said to be the first time an injunction has been granted against a lessor in a liquor selling case.

CUSTOMS AGENTS AND COAST GUARD PLAN TO AID DRYS

3 Departments Also to Fight Narcotic Traffic.

A step toward more rigid enforcement of prohibition and narcotic laws in Chicago was taken yesterday when representatives of the coast guard and the customs office met with the heads of the prohibition and narcotic services to plan cooperation between these four departments of the United States treasury. The conference, the first of its kind, was held in the Federal building in accordance with orders from Washington which call for such meetings the first and third Mondays of every month.

Information and evidence relating to violations of the prohibition and narcotic laws will be interchanged between the agents of the four services in the effort to suppress the traffic in liquor and drugs. Not only will the information be passed to the department directly charged with handling the violations but the aid of the other departments may be requested in the investigation and prosecution of cases.

Seek Faster Boats Here.

One result of the meeting yesterday, it was learned, will take the form of requisitions to Washington for fast boats to attach to the local coast guard. It was the consensus of those present, however, that there is little rum running along Chicago's waterfront, and the boats will be used for life saving and other coast guard activities, eliminating any necessity for arming the speed boats.

E. C. Yellowley, prohibition administrator for this district, was elected chairman of the group and read a report of the government's chemist showing that of the liquor seized here 88 per cent is moonshine and only a small quantity is bonded. Seizures of the customs agents were reported as being negligible and of an isolated nature, mostly from some sailor smuggling in a few bottles after calls at Canadian ports. No figures were given concerning the amount brought in by pleasure or rum running craft.

Greater Power Available.

Another effect of the union of the services for this work, it was said, may be to confer greater powers upon the prohibition forces. If a prohibition agent is accompanied by an agent of one of the other services vested with greater statutory powers, the result will be beneficial to the prohibition department and help the latter to evade the limitations put upon their power to search, it was said.

Lack of cooperation between the field officers of the four services along the United States' borders was one of the causes for the cooperation order issued by Ogden L. Mills, acting secretary of the treasury.

Besides Mr. Yellowley there was present at yesterday's meeting George E. Golding, head of the special prohibition agents; Anthony Czarnecki, collector of customs; Roy W. Fisher, and Fred H. Gardner, customs agents, and representatives of the coast guard and the narcotic office.

ROB DRUGGIST OF $200.

TROPICAL STORM HITS BAHAMAS; MISSES FLORIDA

Miami, Fla., Aug. 6.—(AP)—A tropical storm which raged about Nassau, in the Bahamas today was believed to have recurred to the north or northwest, leaving Nassau damaged but little and precluding danger of heavy gales on the lower east Florida coast. Until the middle of the day the center of the storm was reported by the weather bureau here to be moving west-northwest toward Florida, with gale warnings out along the whole coast from Keywest to West Palm Beach. Vessels took to shelter in Nassau harbor after receiving warnings.

All craft were sticking to the harbor here. Due to an abnormally high tide, residents along the sea and bay fronts were advised to protect against possible water damage.

Radio from Nassau described how the storm broke at about 3 p. m. following a lull from an earlier disturbance which had raged since 4 o'clock this morning.

WEEKS STARTS HIS WORK AS U.S. ENGINEER HERE

Turns Attention First to Lake Water Diversion.

Lieut. Col. William C. Weeks, formerly of the army engineering school at Fort Leavenworth, arrived here yesterday to take up his duties as resident government engineer of the Chicago district. He succeeds Col. Edward H. Schulz, who has been transferred to headquarters of the department's lake division at Cleveland.

Among the major problems of the lake office which will confront Col. Weeks are the subjects of lake water diversion into the Chicago river by the mainline district and the dredging of the Illinois river to form a link in the lake-gulf waterway.

Starts Work at Once.

Immediately after his arrival yesterday he directed his attention to the problem which, he stated, he would need to study for some time before forming an opinion.

Actual dredging work on the waterway is expected to begin within three or four weeks, Col. Weeks said. Bids for the work from the La Grange lock, twelve miles below Beardstown, Ill., to Grafton at the mouth of the Illinois river, will be opened soon. The channel of the river will be widened to a uniform 300 feet and to a deepened uniform depth of nine feet.

Plans Flood Survey.

Another project which will be started soon is a survey of the flood control on the Illinois, Sangamon, and Kankakee rivers, in accordance with an act of congress passed last winter.

This work is a part of a general countrywide investigation and will be incorporated in a comprehensive flood control report.

Col. Weeks was at one time engineer of the Seventh corps area with headquarters at Omaha, Neb. He also has served at the department engineering school in the Philippines, and from 1921 to 1925 was engaged on the construction of the Wilson dam in Alabama.

Hughes Nomination for World Court Assured

WASH., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Practical certainty that Charles Evans Hughes will be elected at the September meeting of the league of nations as a member of the permanent court of international justice at The Hague came today when Italy and Poland joined the 14 nations who previously had nominated him for the place.

Mr. Hughes let it be known that he will accept the place, which became vacant when John Bassett Moore, another American, resigned from the court.

ENDING CLIMAX TO FIGHT.

Bury Mr. Foster, 58, of 4350 Berkeley street, was shot and killed yesterday by Jerry Chaslin, colored, in the latter's flat at 8158 Federal street. Foster had stabbed Chaslin, said.

MERCHANTS, HERE FOR CONVENTION, SEE GOOD FUTURE

Merchants from 25 states who arrived here yesterday for the opening today of the fourteenth session of the Interstate Merchants' council reported that "business is good and the outlook for the fall and winter trade is even better."

The convention, which will last three days, opens this noon at a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman. The delegates will discuss advertising, selling, stock control, credits, style trends, and the human element in business.

"These retailers come from cities and towns throughout the country and their statements, reflecting the conditions in their own localities, indicate that the retail trade of the country faces a period of good business," F. W. Kunning of the trade department of the Chicago Association of Commerce said yesterday.

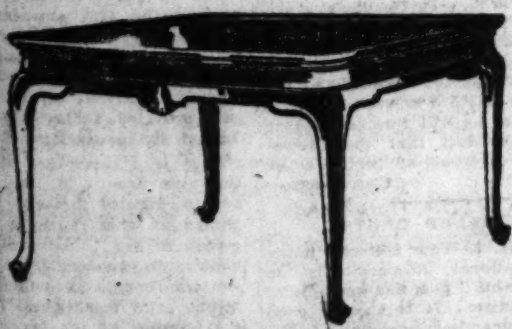

"Chain store competition is not feared by the vast majority of these merchants," he said. "They realize that they have many advantages not available to the chain store operator and that if they are up on their toes and keep their houses in order they can successfully compete with the chain store."

PLAIN FACTS IN ILLINOIS POLITICS.

Homer Galpin, chairman of the Republican county central committee, said that he would be in charge of the Republican campaign in Cook county and then went north for a vacation in Wisconsin. Mr. Emmerson, the candidate for governor, took the announcement without other comment than that he made it a practice not to interfere in county matters.

Mr. Galpin represents everything in Republican county and city politics that was taken to a thorough licking April 10 by alarmed and disgusted voters. He part in local politics and government, his associates in and out of office, his connections with the disreputable and lawless auxiliaries of politics are known to every one who knows anything about local conditions. It might as well be Al Capone in charge of the campaign.

Such a management assumes that the only durable influences in Chicago political action are the influences of the racketeers, bombers, machine gunners, kidnappers, beer peddlers, padlocks, joint keepers, gamblers, pay roll mendicants and petty thieves, fee robbers, habitual criminals, immunized murderers, and such gang chiefs as are able to keep away from each other's gun fire and enjoy the protection of official patronage on strictly business terms.

This is the political hoodlum, highbinder, and hijacking combination which had things in hand until the votes were counted April 10 after a campaign of political assassination, house bombing, ballot box stuffing, intimidation, assault and every kind of gang terrorism.

The scoundrels, blacklegs and professional pickpockets, treasury raiders, lily tappers, exploiters of women, card sharps, commission killers, per diem gun men, contract bombers and percentage kidnapers used all their violence to nominate a ticket which would be good for four years more of all this, dated from next November, and the combinations of politics, crime and vice were defiled in a desperate effort of the people of Chicago to get rid of them.

The candidates who were the beneficiaries of this revolt of the voters against government which had ceased to be civilized and politics which was nothing more than rapine, grand larceny, degeneracy, sadism, privileged murder and systematic extortion, must be touched in the head if they think that the April election was merely a feeble episode in the experience of credulous or apathetic voters and that every one is willing to forget it and welcome all the blacklegs back at the table.

There is no truce with these fellows. They cannot wash their hands and faces and call it a reformation of character. Men with a pretense of decency in public life and political action cannot associate with them and expect to be regarded as decent. If they go with them they gang with them. If gang aid is sought we know gang prices will be paid. These old devils cannot be disguised under crowns of glory. They cannot be made to atone for their crimes by making the election a homecoming of crooks.

OLYMPIC GAMES.

The United States won the field and track games of the Olympic meet, but was extended to do it, and finished 11 points ahead of Finland, with eight points to Finland's five. If Great Britain and the two states and dominions had entered as an individual combination instead of separately the British peoples would have had six firsts.

Remors go to Finland and Canada without American dissent. The Canadian women's team beat the United States, and Williams, the young Canadian sprinter, took two firsts. In the longer distances Finland was unbeatable. This Finnish performance is one which definitely relates itself to national stamina. When a Finn is beaten it is by a fellow countryman. As one ages a youngster loses his place. A flash can come from any people. It is expected. A succession of flashes indicates cause and effect.

Canada does not ask any odds based on disparity of population when its athletes enter into competition with Americans. We are not deceived as to the muscular merits of various nationalities by these games. The United States wins by intensive development. We doubt that it indicates a special physical well being comparable with that of the gymnasium trained German or Swedish populations, not instructed so intelligently in the field and track games. But, after every fair consideration, the American team, doing less than was expected, won the games.

The natural consequence of extending the field of athletics is to increase competition and to destroy a tradition of superiority. We have seen that in track and field athletes in the United States and in foreign lands. A winner may come from almost anywhere. In international competition America derives an advantage from this wide spread of competition here. Thousands of colleges and high schools produce trained boys and young men. The British have a small class of men as compared with these masses and probably no other country can draw upon such a reservoir of material. When Canada, Finland, Great Britain, etc., beat this it is an accomplishment against odds.

As a thing of international value the Olympic games are dubious at the best. Their management leaves a great deal to be desired. The spirit displayed at them frequently is poor and sometimes mean. Oftentimes it appears that more animosity than good will results. It will be no loss to international relations when international sport is put on a less pretentious footing and when nations make their arrangements for competition in smaller groups or by invitation from one to another. Then a premium will be put on courtesy and a check given the less generous impulses.

AND STILL THE LAKES GO UP.

The great lakes are continuing to grow deeper in spite of gloomy forecasts that they were drying up. Government reports show that in July Lakes Huron and Michigan gained nearly three inches. The lakes are now more than nine inches higher than they were a year ago, three inches higher than the average stage for the last ten years and more than 20 inches higher than they were at their lowest in July, 1925.

The lakes are deeper because of increased rainfall. When they were low it was primarily because of decreased rainfall. Only a small part of the lowering was a consequence of the diversion through the Chicago drainage canal. Any one who examined the official records with anything like scientific detachment must have been impressed with that truth.

The lake cities set up a great howl over what was called Chicago's water steal. Chicago was accused of increasing the cost of lake transportation and of undermining the prosperity of the lake cities in order to gain the advantage of a waterway to the gulf. We do not believe that the men who made this charge were themselves taken in by it. Their motive was jealousy. They envied Chicago's present and future strength and they resolved to reduce Chicago's natural advantages to a minimum by reducing the flow in the canal to a trickle. It is not often that a false propaganda is so speedily and so completely repudiated by events as this one has been.

COOLIE LABOR FROM MEXICO.

Harper Leech has called attention in his column to the growing practice among railroads and other large employers of unskilled labor of hiring Mexicans. It is our considered opinion that the immigration of Mexican laborers should be summarily halted by act of congress.

There are two reasons, either of which alone would justify our position. The Mexican is a cheap laborer. Every economic argument which resulted in closing the doors to coolie labor from the orient applies with equal force to Mexican labor. The presence of the Mexicans undermines the American wage scale, discourages the use of labor saving machinery and at a time of widespread unemployment deprives Americans of a chance to earn a living.

There is the added reason that racial problems in America are already too complicated to permit of any additional interweaving. There is nothing in Mexican history or Mexican accomplishment which offers us the slightest hope of profiting by the intrusion of Mexican blood. Racially, socially, and politically the Mexican is very remote from the American, whose stock and tradition are one of the objects of the immigration policy to conserve, and a long period of residence, education, and experience would be required to bring him into harmony with the American scheme.

If our good relations with Mexico depend upon our tolerance of unrestricted Mexican immigration, we will do better to sacrifice the good relations. But if common sense governs them, it should be possible to arrive at a proper policy. The present arrangement is not desirable.

Editorial of the Day

PRIVATE LOANS IN THE MARKET.

One of the most interesting and, for the time being at least, one of the most baffling of recent changes in the field of finance is presented at the moment in Wall Street itself. It consists in the tendency on the part of large corporations and immovable individuals to lend their surplus funds for speculative purposes in the call money market. The weekly statement of brokers' loans issued by the Federal Reserve board divides the loans by New York City member banks against stock collateral into three classifications, namely, "loans for every account," "loans for out of town banks," and "loans for others." When the federal reserve board initiated the practice of releasing these figures weekly, in January, 1928, the first two classifications accounted for a total of $3,577,000,000, against $563,000,000 for the classification "others." In the two and a half years that have elapsed since the first loan figures were published, however, this relationship has undergone a profound change, and the most recent totals, those of July 25, show that against combined loans by New York City and out of town banks of $3,575,000,000, these private, direct loans, referred to as "others," stood at $2,800,000,000. In other words, while bank loans to the stock market have actually decreased since January, 1928, private loans have increased more than threefold.

The New York Clearing House association is reported to have officially recognized the problem presented by the existence of this vast volume of private funds in the call money market exempt from any central control and subject to withdrawal without notice, and is understood to be considering ways and means of reckoning with it. So long as the present situation obtains, the money market will continue to be faced with the possibility of a recurrence of the violent fluctuations in rates witnessed around the first of this month when those outside lenders, needing immediate funds, made such heavy withdrawals as to force rates temporarily up to 10 per cent. And so long as it obtains much of the effectiveness of federal reserve control over the market will continue to be nullified.

NEEDLESS CONNECTION.

The master of the house was suffering from a nervous headache and was trying to sleep in the library. Maggie, the maid, descending the stairs with a vacuum cleaner and some crockery in her arms, tripped halfway down and fell the rest of the distance, arriving with a tremendous clatter. "I suppose you've broken everything, including your head!" roared the householder in a rage. "No, sir," replied the girl, meekly. "Not a thing broken, sir."

"Then," belittled the master, "what did you have to do with all that infernal noise?"—American Legion Weekly.

FIRST AID IN BITES.

Snake Bite.—Slash the wound freely; promote bleeding and coagulating; squeeze the poison from the wound. Put on a tourniquet, and remove it once every half hour and leave it off for five minutes. Overcome shock by the use of hot drinks and the application of heat to the skin. Overcome combined fear and shock by a small dose of morphine, preferably given hypodermically. Use antivenin constitutionally and locally. Probably little or no good is done by using purgative solution in the wound. Permanent crystals in the wound may do harm. Since some of the poison may remain localized for a day, slashing and squeezing should be done late when it has not been done early.

Dog Bite.—If the wound is merely a tooth puncture, enlarge it. It is not advisable to enlarge a torn wound. Cauterize the wound with fuming nitric acid if it is readily available. If not, use nitrate of silver or caustic soda. This advice is based on the theory that the dog may have hydrophobia, and it is best not to take the chance that he is free from it. Clean the wound and dress it with an open dressing, similar to dressing used on other infected animal bites.

Bites by Meat Eating Animals.—ESPECIALLY WILD ANIMALS. The wounds are to be cauterized, sterilized, and dressed with open dressing as used on other infected wounds.

PUNCTURES MADE BY FISH HOOKS AND FISH FINS.—The wound open and apply mercurchrome or iodine. Apply an ordinary dressing.

HUMAN BITES.—The law has always looked on human biting rather sternly. Maybe this was because of the notion that human bites were poisonous. Human bites should be well cleaned, painted with mercurchrome or iodine, and dressed with an open dressing.

RAT BITES.—Rat bites should be cleaned, painted with mercurchrome or iodine, and dressed with an open dressing. The principal danger from rat bite is the development of rat bite fever, or sodoku. This fever is cured by injections of 600 or some other arsenical of that type.

BLISTERS AT RIMS OF EYES.—F. C. B. writes: 1. About every other week a sort of small water blister breaks out around the rims of my eyes. These blisters are about as large as a pinhead, and seem to be filled with water and are very irritable. Can you tell me what they are and what is the cause? Is there any cure?

2. Does high blood pressure cause sleepiness?

3. How can one tell if he has high blood pressure?

REPLY.
1. Have your eyes tested. You may need proper fitting glasses. Errors in your diet is another possibility.
2. Does when arteriosclerosis which involves the arteries of the brain markedly is the cause of the high blood pressure. The greatest test is to observe the cerebral type of arteriosclerosis.
3. By having a test made with a pressure apparatus; by having the vessels of the retina examined; and by studying the symptoms.

PROPER WEIGHTS FOR CHILDREN.
E. L. writes: 1. What is the correct weight of a boy aged 13 years 8 months and 4 feet 11 inches tall?

2. What should a girl weigh, aged 16 years 8 months, and 5 feet 4 inches in height?

REPLY.
1. About 80 pounds.
2. About 125 pounds.
Weights are influenced by build, mass of bone, and race and family characteristics.

THIS NOT A CAUSE OF PYORRHEA.
Mrs. A. E. writes: I have four teeth out, one on each side of my mouth. I was told if I didn't have teeth put in the spaces my teeth would shift, causing me to chew incorrectly, and this would give me pyorrhea.

REPLY.
You will find plenty of dentists who will agree with what you were told. You will find more who take little stock in it. I agree with the latter group.

SMALL TOWN STUFF.

Chicago, July 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—[1] Under the Illinois law, what is the difference between an ownership of real estate by "joint tenants" and "tenants in common"?

[2] Is it a fact that when property is owned by two parties as joint tenants, and one of them dies without leaving a will, the survivor becomes the sole owner without any legal action?

[3] Supposing the decedent had left a will, would it be possible for him to dispose of his property so that the survivor would not become the sole owner of the joint tenancy property? V. J. S.

1. If the instrument expressly provides for the inclusion of the heirs or devisees of the one who dies first.

2. Yes.

RAIN MAGIC.

There was some magic in your ways, and yet I said it could not matter, I'd remain impossible, leave no reason for regret—I never reckoned, somehow, with the rain. For life has sketched you in a careless way, Omitted certain charming subtleties That do not know discovery by day—But rain and talk of love beneath the trees Spill through the colored fabric one will weave Against a day when artistry be vain—And night that sets so much of make-believe, Smiled as I kissed your wet lips in the rain!

COLORADO PENN.

AN ENGLISH scientist after working for thirty years has proved that the sun revolves around the earth, not the earth around the sun. Just so this fellow doesn't try to upset the theory that the sun never sets on English soil he will probably not be beheaded in the Tower.

It Sounds Reasonable.

R. H. L. You know, that fond papa who forgot to give friend wife the keys to the suitcase containing baby's bottle and who hired a flying machine and intercepted the train at Kalamazoo, had very little imagination. He thought the lady wife would not be able to get into the suitcase without the keys. Do you know what I would have done under similar circumstances? I would have wired F. W. "Left two purely personal letters in suitcase next to baby's bottle. Can explain fully, but don't read." The lady wife would have been inside the turned thing in fifteen seconds. You have to think these things out.

HENRY R. HENFCE.

WE WISH Herbert Hoover would quit smoking long black cigars in all the pictures taken of him. The Truly Good must be deeply hurt to see a presidential nominee smoke those wicked, demoralizing cigars. Indeed, it will ruin the young to have such an example set them. But Alfred Smith smokes three cigars at once, one in his mouth and one in each ear. What to do? The country is going to ruin.

Das Ist Ein Langer Montag, Patrick.
[From "Help Wanted" in the W. G. N. via See See.]
MAN—BETWEEN 50-60 YEARS. ANSWER—We had Friday afternoon and when he heard the crack of the thunder he asked, "Which is it—machine guns or pineapples?"

WE VIEW with abhorrence the attempt of the Republicans to turn next Saturday, the day on which here in Chicago we commemorate the Fort Dearborn massacre, into an "Erbert Hoover day" merely because "Erbert" is to turn loose his acceptance speech on that occasion. Especially do we deplore that the figure of the wild Indian with an upraised tomahawk on the massacre monument in the dress of a Tammany brave, while the figure of the lady shrieking before the horrible tomahawk is representative of agriculture. And as for the other Indian who is saving the lady—can't you guess—that's "Erbert" Hoover.

We'll Bite—Which Was It?
Dear Richard: A customer happened to call me here in Chicago on the long distance from Louisville Friday afternoon during the bad electrical display we had Friday afternoon and when he heard the crack of the thunder he asked, "Which is it—machine guns or pineapples?"

A Careful Bumping Up of the Political Situation.
RHIL: Here is the political situation from a nutshell. The Democrats are in a state of prohibition and will do everything they can to abolish it. Smith will be strong in the middle west and Hoover will carry the solid south because this talk of revolt is all nonsense; Hoover and Smith are stronger than most people think; the south absolutely refuses to swallow the Tammany rule and will vote for any Democrat who is nominated; Smith will carry New York because it is a Republican state strong for Hoover; the farmers are dissatisfied with Hoover, but can't think of any reason offhand; Illinois can be depended upon to go Republican or Democratic, while Pennsylvania is certain to go Democratic or Republican.

THE CABLE says that all the entire vintage of the greatest wine producing area in Portugal has been destroyed by blight and no wine can be produced in that section for years. It may be true or it may be just propaganda to scare away votes for Al Smith. The argument is, "What's the use?"

Ha Ha! That'll Stop 'Em! Lykell, Lykell!
Dick: Not so long ago the younger generation was told that kiss shortened their lives by ten minutes. A little later they were told that 40,000 germs were transmitted by each kiss. And now University of Wisconsin professor claims one can contract lead poisoning from kissing one who has on powder, rouge, or lipstick. And lead poisoning! That's simply sure death, that is. OLD SOAK.

MY NOSE.
It doesn't breathe;
It doesn't smell;
It doesn't feel;
So very well.

I am discouraged
With my nose;
The only thing it
Does is blow.

DONOR: ALBION.

CHICAGO MAY HAVE a grand police force, and boasting, as we do, of a speaking acquaintance with most of 'em, we ought to know. But, honestly now, we do like the London bobbies better. They're so much more helpful. Take the big chap in the chin strap who saunters about Leicester Square every evening from 5 on. One evening in early May we were doing some walking about Leicester Square ourselves, sort of aimless-like, and if you must know, thinking pleasantly of what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina. After a bit this bobby walks up to us. "Can I be of any assistance to you, sir?" said he. "No, thank you," said we (you always say "thank you" in London). "We were just wondering where we'd have dinner tonight." "Ah," said our handsome bobby, "do you know the Lord Balgrave on the corner, sir? It's the cleanest pub and the finest food in London, sir." And we thanked him again and took his advice, and oh, the foaming brown ale, the cool, foaming, soul-satisfying brown ale that we had there! On other days at the Lord Balgrave we had dusty bottles of magnificent Beaujolais and Burgundy, of sparkling Burgundies and sunny Bordeaux, but we can never forget that first tall mug of good brown ale, topped with inches of cream colored foam. No, sir, however much you may like the Chicago police and we like 'em a lot, you have to admit the London bobbies are more helpful.

Drive la.
Dick: Ingenious, that chap who creates La Grange's road signs! Does he tell us, "Speed limit, empty miles" or "Drive carefully, save a life"? He does not. He merely says: "Look—Cemetery Entrance."

30 YEARS AGO TODAY.

AUGUST 7, 1898.
CHICAGO.—Advices from Santiago and Washington added three to the roll of First Illinois infantry heroes who have died of yellow fever. They are Archie Beattie, Jesse J. Griffith, and George Haven.

MADRID.—Spain's answer to the American demands was made tonight. She accepts the United States' conditions of peace. Premier Sagasta communicated to the queen regent the result of his conference with the party chiefs and generals, who had no other feasible plan to suggest. Then, having obtained her assent, he called a council of ministers at which a definite reply to the peace demands was drawn up and approved.

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba.—Sampson's and Schley's squadrons are assembled here, where they are being coal, provisioned and repaired. The Brooklyn has been added to Sampson's command and Commodore Schley will select another flagship.

LONDON.—Relations between Russia and England have become so strained that a state of chronic crisis exists, though officials deprecate alarmist reports. Practically every ship in the British navy, whether in or out of commission, has its full war complement of officers and men.

COLUMBUS, O.—Star Pointer, the famous Chicago pacer and the only horse that has ever beaten two minutes in harness, today equaled his record of 1:59 4/5, made at Roadville Park, near Boston, a year ago.

WASHINGTON.—President McKinley appointed William R. Hearst as ensign in the regular navy.

CHICAGO.—The Populists nominated a full ticket for county offices, headed by L. A. Shaw for sheriff.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY.

AUGUST 7, 1913.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE ALBION FRONT.—American machine gunners, protecting a location on the Vesle front west of Flines, wiped out an entire battalion of German infantrymen and machine gunners today. The Germans at the time were getting in position to attack American bridge builders. Observers reported that they did not see a single German get away from the leaden hail. The Germans have been unrelenting in their efforts to dislodge the Americans from Flines.

LONDON.—The gain in national efficiency is so great as the result of the wartime liquor restrictions that it is certain Great Britain never will return to pre-war conditions in this regard. Baron d'Abernon, chairman of the central board of control, which deals with the drink problem, told the Associated Press.

CHICAGO.—A cooling lake breeze arriving shortly after midnight this morning came as a welcome culmination to the hottest day of the year here—101 degrees at 2:30 in the afternoon. Other temperatures were: Washington, 104 degrees, a mark never reached; Detroit, Harrisburg, Toledo, O., and Decatur, Ill., 104; Philadelphia, 101. "Not quite so warm" is the prediction for today.

CHICAGO.—Miss Rosalie Selfridge, eldest daughter of Harry Gordon Selfridge, and Prince Serge de Bolotoff, son of Princess Wladimirsky of Russia and London, will be married today at Highcliffe castle, the Selfridge country estate in England.

CHICAGO.—John Marshall Clark, pioneer Chicago business man and one of the city's oldest residents, died at his summer home in Marion, Mass., at the age of 82.

CHICAGO.—William G. McAfee, secretary of the treasury and director general of the railways, arrived here to inspect Chicago's railway terminal situation. Centralization of terminals and the elimination of three stations may possibly result from his trip. His plan suggests the elimination of the Dearborn street and Grand Central stations and later the abandonment of the La Salle street station.

BUMPER CROPS.
Lincoln, Ill., Aug. 1.—I was interested in your cartoon today of "Bumper Crops." Last year we grew a short crop of oats. The carry over will be very small. Look at the price of oats when the farmer has them to sell. The bid today is 31 cents; a tenant farmer must pay for the thrashing and twine and not considering his work or any other expense he will receive net 24 cents for his oats.

The last year's corn crop is more completely cleaned out than for many years. In the first place it was overestimated. Good crop is coming, take a look at December future price as compared with today's cash. The old, old story is again going to be repeated. It is taking place today. The farmer must sell wheat and oats. Wheat is now selling for less than last year with a small crop coming, according to all estimates. The farmer who grows the grain that others may eat the wheat, or fatten the cattle or pork from his surplus corn, pays the penalty.

Why give a false impression of prosperity to your own section, let alone other sections of this country, by a cartoon that would lead others to believe the farmer is happy and prosperous? May I leave a constructive thought with you? The whole country may speculate in any stock listed in Chicago or New York and it will not affect the earnings or sales of any company affecting the producer in any way. Specialists in corn, wheat, oats, cotton and so on affect the very being of the producer. FREDERICK W. LONGAN.

NATIONAL AND LOCAL ISSUES.
Chicago, Aug. 2.—In this morning's Tribune a correspondent, Alex Ladsen by name, makes the bold statement that Hoover as a candidate cannot become President without the entire support of William R. Ware and the Crowe-Thompson organization. I do not know much about Ware, but as to the Crowe-Thompson crowd, there is no such animal. Where has Alex been since the April primaries? I am voting for Hoover and I have many friends who are likewise voting for Hoover, and the last thing on earth we want any one to think is that we will vote for Hoover because of the fact that the Crowe-Thompson crowd would advocate Hoover as a candidate.

CRUEL AND UNUSUAL.
Chicago, Aug. 3.—A fine point of constitutional law arises in relation to the spending of $60,000 by dry agents to get their wives in the night clubs of New York, in the laudable purpose of forcing the 18th amendment and Volstead act. Before that amendment was tacked on to the constitution by late Wayne Wheeler and others, thoughtful writers of the Independent night club boom at such prices, that he would machine gun a congressman whose stature at the moment resembled a guest in a bottle of Chianti. There is the suffering of the farmer, who would help the gunners for government money. Can't the constitution be invoked to stop all this?

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Your editorial today entitled "National Responsibility in Repudiated Debts" is a fine example of reason for demanding personal responsibility on the part of those who write newspaper editorials. The hiding of editorial writers behind the cloak of a corporate name is just as 1 per cent American as the spirit of the writer of the editorial referred to.

Who is he? The head of the English speaking union, some British empire association or some other Anglophile? I suppose it never occurred to you or to you that the funding of Great Britain's war debts to America was purely and simply a repudiation by Great Britain of her debt to this country.

SELLER OF AIRPLANES GOES AFTER TAXICAB ENDURANCE RECORD

John C. Newell, a dealer in airplanes with offices at 231 South La Salle street, hired a Checker taxicab early Sunday morning. He told the driver, James Spano, to take him to Soldiers' field, where he said he was going to sell two planes to the rodeo people.

He went into the stand. The cab waited. He came out and ordered that he be driven to various parts of the city. Late in the evening, when he said he still had not ridden enough, Spano turned him over to a night driver, Nick Giraldi, 404 South Ashland avenue. All through the night Giraldi drove him hither and yon. And when the dawn came, Newell still wanted to ride.

Giraldi transferred him to a day cab, driven by Sylvan Pery, 2423 South Oakley avenue. Pery suggested that, as the bill was $38, something should be paid on account. Newell said he had an arrangement to keep a cab for two days and it was all right with officials of the concern. Pery inquired and was informed there was no such agreement. As Newell wouldn't pay, he was locked up in the Des Plaines street police station.

U. S. FAILS TO GET BACK ITS OUTLAY ON RECLAMATION

Construction Costs Far Exceed Repayments.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—[Special.]—Government funds are being poured out for reclamation and irrigation construction in western arid areas in a volume three times as great as the repayments from settlers.

Figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, made available today, show that collections from water users for the construction charges aggregated $145,150. As against this revenue, the reclamation bureau of the interior department paid out for construction more than $9,000,000. The bureau intends to spend $12,000,000 for construction during the current fiscal year.

What the Books Show.

In a quarter of a century of government reclamation work, the net result of the construction part of the program, for which the original settlers promised reimbursement within a ten year period, is a definite writing off of $14,667,965 in losses and an admitted probable additional loss of $1,735,406. In addition unmatured obligations of settlers total nearly 120 million dollars.

At the present rate of repayment, 40 years will elapse before the government is reimbursed, assuming that there are no more losses to be written off or extensions of time. Actually it will be much longer before the government can close its books on present projects, as upward of 100 millions more will be paid out to complete construction under a ten year program inaugurated last year.

Approval by congress of new projects will make it a never ending proposition. That they will be undertaken seems more than likely, notwithstanding the present attitude of the interior department in seeking first to complete work already started and the opposition of farm groups to any further work in the face of agricultural depression.

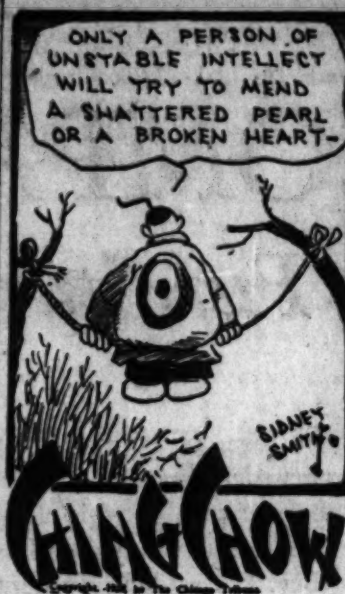

Repayment Time Extended.

The first reclamation act in 1903 contemplated repayment of construction outlays in a period of 10 years. In 1914 the act was amended to provide for payments over a period of 20 years. Since then the time on many of the projects has been extended to 40 years and under a system of adjusting payments to correspond with crop values as much as 50 and even 60 years is allowed.

In announcing receipts of $3,148,150 from settlers for construction charges during the last fiscal year reclamation bureau officials laid stress on the fact that this was an increase over the $2,871,542 total of the previous year. They said that collections were slightly more than amounts actually due owing to the inclusion of some back payments.

Would Bankrupt Outsiders.

An investigation of the entire reclamation program, however, disclosed a situation which would have meant bankruptcy for any land venture without unlimited government funds back of it. The government's expenditures for all phases of its reclamation and irrigation work since 1903 total approximately 230 million dollars. Of this, $178,960,601 was expended for construction, $29,000,000 for operation and maintenance and the balance of about $22,000,000 for administrative and miscellaneous expenses. The reclamation laws contemplate repayment by settlers of amounts expended both for construction and for operation and maintenance. Settlers during the quarter of a century period have paid about $12,500,000 to the government for construction charges and about $20,000,000 for operation and maintenance. Outstanding delinquencies, after eliminating losses incident to a general adjustment approved by congress in 1924, amounted on June 30, 1928, to $12,403,114 for construction charges and $1,246,740 for operation and maintenance. This represented a 7 per cent delinquency for construction and a 6 per cent delinquency for operation and maintenance.

Accumulation Since 1926.

Before the passage of the adjustment act 14 per cent of the construction charges and 18 per cent of the operation and maintenance charges remained unpaid. Present delinquencies represent those accumulated since 1926, as the state was wiped clean at that time, partly by writing off losses and partly by funding delinquencies with unmatured construction charges. Besides $149,150 from settlers on construction charges during the last fiscal year, they paid $1,753,459 for maintenance and operation, which was about $20,000 less than the amount due.

The adjustment act of 1926 approved the writing off of definite losses for construction amounting to $14,153,051. This represented, in large part, work to supply water for lands of little or no productivity. Added to this were definite losses of $614,914 in operation and maintenance charges, the two items totaling $14,867,965.

Other deductions already made on the books of the reclamation bureau from amounts charged against water users include $1,261,970 for abandoned works, $1,000,000 appropriated to supplement the reclamation fund, and $322,097 listed as a "contract write-off."

Deducted from Charges.

These loss items, aggregating $14,867,965, have been deducted from net construction charges amounting to $179,614,677, leaving $163,746,712 or ultimately due from settlers. The construction total has been increased from $178,960,601, the amount actually expended, to $186,586,793 by funding with it about $6,600,000 in unpaid operation and maintenance charges and $1,066,000 in penalties. From this has been deducted $6,972,116 in revenues to get the net construction charge against settlers over the 25 year period of $179,614,677. The $163,746,712 amount paid or ultimately due from settlers has been tentatively reduced on the books of the reclamation bureau by $12,735,406, the item of admitted probable additional losses. This leaves the $149,929,154, or which $32,491,572 has been paid by settlers. The remaining unpaid obligations for construction thus are listed as totaling $117,437,582.

Includes Other Amounts.

What is known as the reclamation fund includes amounts diverted from other sources by act of congress. During the last fiscal year total revenues of this fund were $9,272,741. This included $6,069,299 from collections on construction operation and maintenance and miscellaneous charges and $3,173,242 in appropriations to the fund from public land sales, oil royalties, etc. Technically, expenditures for reclamation purposes are limited to amounts available from this fund, although actually the amount being expended for construction is three times as great as the repayments by settlers for this particular item.

Searchers Find Explorer's Abandoned Volcano Camp

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 6.—A rescue expedition searching for the British explorer, Capt. Marden, who recently attempted a lone ascent of the volcano of Aconcagua, found his tent, provisions, and sledge abandoned at an altitude of 13,000 feet. No traces of the explorer were found. The searchers found a sealed letter addressed to Capt. Marden's wife in London.

REPORT BAYONETS USED TO QUELL INDIAN SCHOLARS

(Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.)
LONDON, Aug. 6.—The dispersal of a school boys' riot in Bangalore, India, by troops with fixed bayonets, and suppression of newspapers publishing statements that the soldiers also fired on the boys are alleged in a Daily Mail dispatch from Bombay.

The boys, in a spirit of bravado, maintained their strike after the order had been given for the restoration of an image of the god Ganesha, which had been removed, and demanded the release of three strike leaders. Marching through the streets, they persuaded other schoolboys to participate and arrived at the house of a government minister, where they damaged the garden and stoned a motor car. The guards, it is said, roughly handled the boys, and it is alleged the minister drove his car through the crowd.

Most of the disorder subsided when the lancers charged at the orders of the minister. Some of the boys, however, picked up stones and hurled them at the lancers, who again charged and also charged other boys outside the prison where the strike leaders were incarcerated. According to the Evening Mail of Bangalore—now suppressed—eight to ten boys were sent to the hospital with severe wounds.

The body of a man found slain in Tenley Park was identified last night as that of Dominick Culandrud, 26, of 1817 Girard street, the father of four small children. The murder was believed to have been due to warfare among moonshiners, but the police couldn't reconcile that belief with what they learned about Culandrud.

There were indications that the dead man had been a torture victim. Bullets were found in the hands and legs, the jaw had been broken with a bullet, and two bullets were found in the brain. The police said a machine gun had not been used; that the bullets were from a .45 caliber automatic pistol.

At the body was found yesterday in a clump of bushes by John F. Krieger, a farmer, John Willie, also a farmer, said he had heard a number of shots in quick succession Sunday afternoon and had been startled.

He saw a machine gun fire. Soon afterward he saw an automobile come from the direction of the shooting, running at terrific speed, Willie said.

It was apparent that the man had been "taken for a ride" and perhaps as a effort to drive him to a drug store, although the shots in the hands, arms and legs might have been moved as the body lay on the ground, police pointed out.

The name of a cabdriver at 1431 Milwaukee avenue in the dead man's neighborhood was given to the police. He went there and then learned the man had been missing since

True bills charging conspiracy to commit robbery were reported to have been voted yesterday by the Cook county grand jury against three youths who were foiled in an attempt to hold up the driver of a CHICAGO TRIBUNE delivery truck on July 30. Indictments may be returned today.

Saturday night. Mrs. Culandrus said her husband had no connection with any one in the alcohol business and that he was a laborer for the Atlas Box company.

The last she knew of him, she said, was that he became intoxicated Saturday night and failed to come home.

Eureka, Kas., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Ted Church, 25, tried to force his company upon his estranged wife and was shot and killed by the young woman's aunt, Mrs. Mollie Smethers, 68, at her home here today.

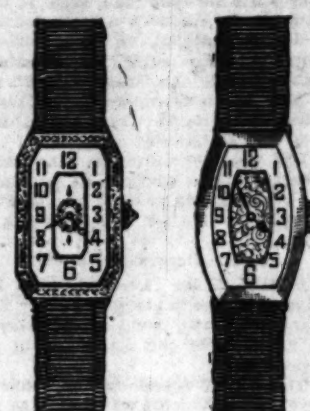

The defendants are: Joseph Kosar, 112, 22, 1947 Superior street, who when arrested claimed to be a deputy of the city custodian's office; Johnnie Lee, 11, 194 North 75th avenue, Elmhurst, Ill.; Stanley Stanley, 30, 2232 Chicago avenue.

Four witnesses, Roy Poehner, Mark Pember, and Martin Dwyer, all employees of THE TRIBUNE, and Police Officer Barrett, were taken before the grand jury. The grand jury's State's Attorney Spiro. The robbery was thwarted through employees who saw an auto, with engine running, parked near the entrance to THE TRIBUNE building. The grand jury's Attorney Harry Ditchburn was assigned to prosecute the case.

SENATOR MOSES, ON WAY WEST, RAPS AL SMITH

MacChesney Says the Voters Favor Hoover.

Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the committee that will notify Herbert Hoover of his nomination for President, left for California last night after this comment:

"Since Gov. Al Smith has undertaken to rewrite the Democratic platform, we have to get from the Democratic candidate some statement which will indicate where his feet are placed if they are placed definitely at any time in the campaign."

Says West Favors Hoover.

Attorney Nathan William MacChesney, former schoolmate of Mr. Hoover, returned to Chicago yesterday after a tour of the west, with the statement that westerners are for Hoover for three reasons:

1. The taint of Tammany on Smith is too suggestive of all that is evil in politics.
2. Westerners respect the law and have a feeling of uneasiness about the nullification talk of Gov. Smith.
3. The western farmer has more faith in a man like Hoover, raised from a barefoot boy of western farm country, to solve the farmers' problem than in a man of the political antecedents of Gov. Smith.

Will Organize Students.

Other cleanings at Republican headquarters yesterday were: Mrs. Mercedes Janet Hurst of Peru, Indiana, appointed to organize college students for Hoover.

W. Hastings, former football star of Northwestern university, was selected by Western Manager James W. Good to organize Hoover clubs in all the colleges of the twenty states in the western district.

R. B. Church of Memphis, Tenn., one of the Hoover notification committee, reported the Tennessee situation as encouraging due to a probable split in Democratic ranks.

S. M. Hoff, delegate of West Virginia, returning from the west said that only one out of each dozen persons he met were for Smith for President.

Republican state headquarters are organizing Illinois into congressional district groups. Louis L. Emmerson, nominee for governor, Orla F. Glenn, nominee for U. S. senator, are arranging the following organization trip: Aug. 13, Carbondale; Aug. 14, Harrisburg; Aug. 15, Mount Vernon; Aug. 16, East St. Louis; Aug. 17, Jacksonville, and Springfield; Aug. 20, Danville and Decatur; Aug. 21, Bloomington and Peoria; Aug. 22, Republican day at the state fair, in Springfield; Aug. 27, Galesburg and Monmouth; Aug. 28, Dixon and De Kalb; Aug. 29, Elgin and Waukegan.

Democrats Eye Missouri.
MARTIN J. O'Brien, Democratic county chairman, said it is possible there will be no Democratic national headquarters in Chicago as the present plan is to locate the western headquarters in St. Louis, as an aid to carrying Missouri for Smith.

Made in the KIMBALL Factories

And Yet
How Low a Price!
$675

THE Dunbar Grand is an exceptional value, with rare beauty of tone and exterior beauty. A wonderful value, also, is the Whitney Grand, at $750— or $850 in Jacobean period style.

Made in the Kimball factories, they are reliably guaranteed. Where can you get instruments with such a background at anywhere near these moderate prices?

The trend of the time is toward period models and granda of small dimensions. A charming Kimball grand in the little Sheraton model, only 4 feet 5 inches long, and the price has been made impressively low—$795.00.

Kimball granda, 4 feet 10 1/4 inches long, at $975.00, or larger sizes at $1150.00 and $1400.00, are instruments of rare distinction and value. These sizes are also offered in several period models.

water transportation, on which Mr. Hoover has taken an advanced position. He is the best man in the country to carry on this work. This will influence the campaign in the corn belt."

Crocker Visits Candidate.

William H. Crocker, national committeeman from California, discussed campaign matters with Mr. Hoover this afternoon. Mr. Crocker is highly optimistic.

"Mr. Hoover will carry the Pacific coast states by a large majority than any other candidate for any position in any party in any election thus far held," he said.

"I believe that he will carry Nevada in a similar way. Senator Key Pittman is a strong man there, but Gov. Wingfield, the republican national committeeman, is stronger and has the situation well in hand."

Mr. Hoover has given up his plan to motor to the Sierra Nevada mountains this week, although he may go before he starts east. There are too many engagements piling up before his acceptance speech.

TRUCKS' DAMAGE TO STREETS WILL BE SHOWN TODAY

A demonstration of effects of freight carrying motor trucks and buses upon city pavements will be held on the upper level of Wacker drive between Franklin street and Wabash avenue at 10 o'clock this morning. Data obtained from the demonstration is to be used by the council committee on efficiency, economy and rehabilitation for the determination of maximum allowances for loads to be provided in a new ordinance designed to eliminate damage to pavements by excessive loads and speeds.

Mexican Quake 'Casualties'

Two Cases of Minor Injury

Destruction of the less substantial houses and the cracking of walls and roofs in the more sturdy built structures constituted the property damage.

PROHIBITION BIG ISSUE TODAY AT MISSOURI POLLS

Reed, Retiring, Backs
Wet for Successor.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Primary campaigns in Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma were wound up tonight as candidates made their final pleas for votes in tomorrow's elections.

National issues gained attention only in Missouri, where sharp battles have been waged among candidates in both the major parties for the nomination for United States senator with prohibition the leading issue.

In Kansas and Oklahoma personalities and state issues pushed national politics into the background. Only state and congressional nominees were to be selected in these commonwealths.

Reed Takes a Hand.

The wet and dry question enters into both the Republican and Democratic senatorial races in Missouri, with Senator James A. Reed, who is retiring from public office, espousing the cause of James A. Collet of Salisbury, an avowed wet, who is seeking the Democratic nomination.

Opposing Collet is Charles M. Hay, St. Louis attorney, an ancient political enemy of Reed and a dry. In a series of speeches through the state, Reed called for the defeat of Hay on the ground that the St. Louis candidate was not in harmony with the prohibition views of Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, the party standard bearer.

Hay Cites Platform.

Hay told his campaign audiences that he stood on the law enforcement plank adopted at the national convention at Houston covering the liquor question.

He said it was broad enough for all sections of the party to subscribe to. Three candidates for the Republican nomination for senator declared for modification of the prohibition laws: Nathan Frank, wealthy St. Louis lawyer; Bernard P. Boye of St. Louis, and Henry A. Bundschu of Independence.

Avowed dries in the race are State Senator David M. Proctor of Kansas City and W. O. Alkesson of Butler. Roscoe C. Patterson, United States district attorney at Kansas City, announced he was opposed to "nullification of the dry laws."

G. O. P. Issue Also.

Prohibition also was made an issue in the gubernatorial campaigns. The Republican contestants are Lieut. Gov. Nathan A. Bennett, dry; Henry S. Caulfield, St. Louis, who has expressed disapproval of prohibition, and three others, William R. Schneider, Frank H. Wieland, and Sam D. Hogdon.

Avowed opponents of the dry laws. On the Democratic side, State Senator A. L. McCawley, author of Missouri's bone dry law, is opposed by Francis M. Wilson of Platte City.

Venezuela Rebels Who Fled to Sea Captured

WILLEMSTAD, Dutch West Indies, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Eleven fugitives from the abortive revolutionary movement in the state of Falcon, Venezuela, were brought here this afternoon on the tug Samson from Aruba under an armed police guard. They will remain in custody pending an investigation. The fugitives left Venezuela in an open boat last week.

SAYS FILM WILL SILENCE DISPUTE OVER MALMGREN

TROMSOE, Norway, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Russian ice breaker Krassin, which has been participating in the rescue of the Noble arctic expedition, arrived today.

Dr. Adolf Hoel of the Krassin, questioned about the report that the aviator Chukhovskiy had seen a third man on the ice with Alberto Mariano and Filippi Zappi, who had left Dr. Finn Malmgren behind to die, said he was sure that the "third figure" was a pair of trousers, as Zappi stated, which was found when the Krassin took the Italians aboard.

He pointed out that the misty weather might easily have accounted for the aviator's mistake and said that the picture film would settle the question.

Pope Decorates Nobles.

ROME, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Pope Pius gave an audience today to Father Flaminio, who went to Spitzbergen as chaplain of the Noble north pole expedition.

The pontiff asked Father Flaminio to convey his warmest congratulations to Gen. Umberto Nobil.

The pontiff also gave him a large pontifical gold medal which is struck yearly asking him to deliver it to Gen. Nobil as a mark of his satisfaction for what the general had done.

SCIENTIST AND MARATHON JAR NORDIC PRIDE

White Man Just Lucky, Says Professor.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 6.—The results of the marathon at the Olympic games gave special point to the table discussion of racial differences at the Institute of Politics today.

Prof. Robert D. McKenzie of the University of Washington, a specialist in the study of race relations, advanced the theory that Nordic supremacy, particularly over the colored races, was not caused by differences in race, but by differences in culture or training.

Prof. McKenzie's theory was based on his study of the Nordic races, which he said were superior to the colored races in every way. He said that the Nordic races were superior in every way to the colored races, and that the colored races were inferior to the Nordic races in every way.

Winner a Dispatch Runner. The fact that the winner had received special training as a dispatch runner for the French troops in Morocco added emphasis to Dr. McKenzie's remarks.

The general assumption that people with superior technical culture are superior to peoples without has no scientific validity," he said. "The fact that the Nordic is superior to the oriental because he has more and larger industries has no basis in science. The Nordic happened to be the first to use mechanical energy and just happened to have the resources of energy, and he then got the lead over the rest of the world in the nineteenth century that has given him the big head. Now he tries to explain this on the basis of race."

No Cause for Pride. Furthermore, all scientific efforts to study mental differences between peoples of the west and oriental peoples show there is no biological superiority of the white man. It is very evident that orientals, once they get the scientific spirit that dominates the west, will equal the white man in any kind of effort, whether cultural, commercial, or scientific. The white man's advantage rests merely in the fact that he got the start."

MEYER'S BROKERAGE ACCOUNTS MAY CUT LOSSES ON HIS NOTES

La Salle street was debating yesterday what the losses will be to the banks which loaned $414,000 to Charles H. Meyer, deposed chief examiner for the Chicago clearing house association, on unsecured notes.

According to reports, Mr. Meyer's largest speculation was in stock of the Willis-Overland company. His brokerage account was said to contain between $5,000 and 40,000 shares of this stock. At the current market price, this holding would have a value around $500,000. However, Mr. Meyer's equity will depend on how much he owed the brokers.

Another report was that Mr. Meyer's brokerage account also holds securities deposited as collateral to finance his speculations but which were borrowed from a wealthy Chicago friend. These securities would constitute a claim against Mr. Meyer's equity in his account and makes even more problematical what the banks may be able to recover.

It was learned yesterday that Mr. Meyer's largest borrowing was from a north side state bank, where he obtained $125,000. Officials of the bank said last night that they have not yet taken any steps to recover on the notes. They suggested that the clearing house association might adopt some measure to clear Mr. Meyer's debts. But clearing house officials pointed out that the organization was not responsible for Mr. Meyer's private borrowings and should not be asked to make them good.

AL TASTES KIND OF ROADS THAT CHICAGO KNOWS

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 6.—[Special.]—Gov. Smith today shared his troubles with Chicago.

At 1 o'clock this morning he reached the executive mansion all tuckered out by a five hour automobile ride that should have taken only three hours.

Today he still was feeling the strain. On a narrow, winding, and congested road he had passed cars half overturned in the ditch.

He had exchanged the time of night with weary motorists and crying children whose Sunday outing had been spoiled by traffic congestion and its perils.

Wants New and Wide Road. "And that," said Al Smith, "is the main highway between one of this state's finest recreation grounds and the city of Albany."

"What we saw last night illustrated what I have been saying for years. The state of New York ought to build a new road from Bear Mountain park to Albany."

"And it ought to be seventy-five feet wide and as straight as they can make it."

"We have the same problem in Chicago and Cook county," a listener from Illinois suggested.

Solve It Now, He Urges. "Now's the time to solve it," Al replied. "Land values along possible main routes are rising with almost unbelievable rapidity, and perils, caused by congestion on the old narrow routes, are increasing to such an extent that they affect the whole population of the country."

"That was a tough ride we had last night. Terrible conditions. Automobiles were ditched along the way all at a cost to everybody of time, property and nervous force. That it was not at a cost of life and limb among the thousands we passed was by the goodness of God."

"Two years ago I suggested a wide highway up the west shore of the Hudson for a hundred miles. I want it to keep clear of the villages that lie on points that jut into the river."

Everybody's Problem—and Gain. "This is everybody's problem and solving it will be everybody's gain."

DEATH LAID TO FOOD POISONING. Elmer Schacht, 14 years old, 2834 West 15th street, died yesterday in the West Side hospital apparently from food poisoning.

TELL OF BUTCHER BOY ROMANCE OF SLAIN MATRON

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 6.—(AP)—A man and woman, described as prominent, told officers today what they knew of the "butcher boy" romance of Mrs. Myrtle L. Mellus, 41, which police say preceded her brutal slaying yesterday in her home in the exclusive Wilshire district.

While the identity of the couple was guarded by police, Leo P. Kelly, 29, was held in a cell nearby charged with murder. Frank Mellus, prominent sportsman and manufacturer, husband of the wealthy society matron, said Kelly long had been their "meat market man."

Kelly repeated his denial of guilt. He had gone to Mrs. Mellus' home while her husband was on a fishing excursion. Breakfast over and the Negro maid permitted to leave, they drank, he said, and a quarrel ensued. He beat her terribly, Kelly related. He said he did not kill her.

Mrs. Mellus' body, stripped of the blue pajamas which the maid said she wore at breakfast with Kelly, was found on her bed by Mellus when he returned home. A heavy blow from an empty bottle had caused death, while her body was covered with welts and bruises.

An hour after police had entered the fashionable residence Kelly was found. Officers heard him breathing in a clothes closet and dragged him out to the accompaniment of his entreaties to them to kill him.

Out of the murder bureau tricked piecemeal a story from investigators of an alleged illicit romance that started five years ago between the "handsome butcher boy" and the woman of wealth. Mellus, when informed of it by police, collapsed and was placed under the care of a physician.

Yacht of Rocket Auto Inventor Blows Up

BINGEN, Germany, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Fritz Van Opel's new motor racing yacht Opel IV, exploded and sank within a few minutes near Bingerloch today when the manufacturer of rocket propelled machines was giving the boat its first test. Van Opel and his companions jumped overboard in their leather clothes and swam ashore. Saturday one of his rocket cars exploded when being tried out for speed on the rails.

CHEMISTS URGED TO CONDUCT WAR AGAINST FAKERS

Recommendation was made to the American Chemical society institute last night that efforts be made to expose and stamp out chemical quackeries. Dr. Paul N. Leach, director of the American Medical association, who made the recommendation in his speech before the chemists at Northwestern university, advocated steps to eliminate quackery in the pursuit of chemistry similar to those that have been taken against medical fakers.

The exploitation of copper cleaners which contain poisonous ingredients, the street sales of silver plating preparations containing mercury, and the pronouncements of a multitude of promoters who claim to be authoritative chemists were listed among the prev-fakers, was recommended.

Girl Has Narrow Escape as 25 Pound Rock Falls

Gladys Tollgren, 7 years old, 4345 North Hamlin avenue, narrowly escaped last night when a piece of the cornice, weighing about 25 pounds, fell from the tenth floor of the Lytton building and State street and Jackson boulevard and struck on the sidewalk a few feet from her. A splinter of rock struck the child on the left arm.

THERE is nothing more vitalizing than a vacation in the mountains of the Virginias. The air is light, invigorating, the sun is warm but never hot, the nights are cool and bring sweet sleep. City-tired eyes are refreshed by the long green sweep of the verdure-covered mountains and the misty blue horizons.

All out-door sports may be enjoyed in this mountain region. For here are located two of America's most famous spas—The Greenbrier at White Sulphur Springs, and The Homestead at Hot Springs. Each has three championship golf courses—excellent tennis courts, many miles of private bridle paths, swimming pools and thermal establishments second to none. Located from 2000 to 2500 feet above the sea, the air is never humid. The average summer temperature is 66°. And there are no mosquitoes.

Old Point Comfort, too, now holds added charm with the opening of the new Chamberlin-Vanderbilt Hotel—located right on the water—not a dozen yards from the waves. Concentrate for Sales Where Desires Are Keenest —

The influences that promote buying operate most forcefully in America's populous centers—where opportunity flourishes, incomes mount, and wants multiply.

*In the cities of more than 10,000 population—of which there are 746 in the United States—the circulation of Pictorial Review is predominant.

SHE has just thinned her purse with purchases galore of things to wear things for the children things for the home But she wants lots more.

She'll not lose sight of those wants, either. She keeps one eye vigilantly on the forces that stimulate her desires: on advertisements; on store window displays; on motion pictures, which reveal to her unsuspected wishes for possession; on the objects in the homes of her friends that dramatize the lacking elements in the comfort and appearance of her own home.

If she keeps the other eye dutifully on the family income and the family bank balance, she still wants hard enough to keep continuous action in force between these two major points in her mental focus: her wants and the wherewithal.

And, because she is alert and progressive, and her husband is alert and progressive, because opportunity in prosperous American matches accomplishment with income, she is continuously more able to translate her mental action into literal action.

And of course, each time she satisfies her current wants, she finds herself possessed of unlimited new ones.

She is, personified, an enormous proportion of the nation today. She lives in a town—probably one having more than 10,000 people. She has, or soon will have, a car, a radio, a piano, a telephone, an attractive modern home, a husband, children, friends, at an income which, if it is not large, still surprisingly manages all of these things—and best of all is growing.

She gets around a good deal she goes to movies bridge parties oftentimes to women's clubs. She is a good housekeeper—as she has to be with the servant problem being what it is.

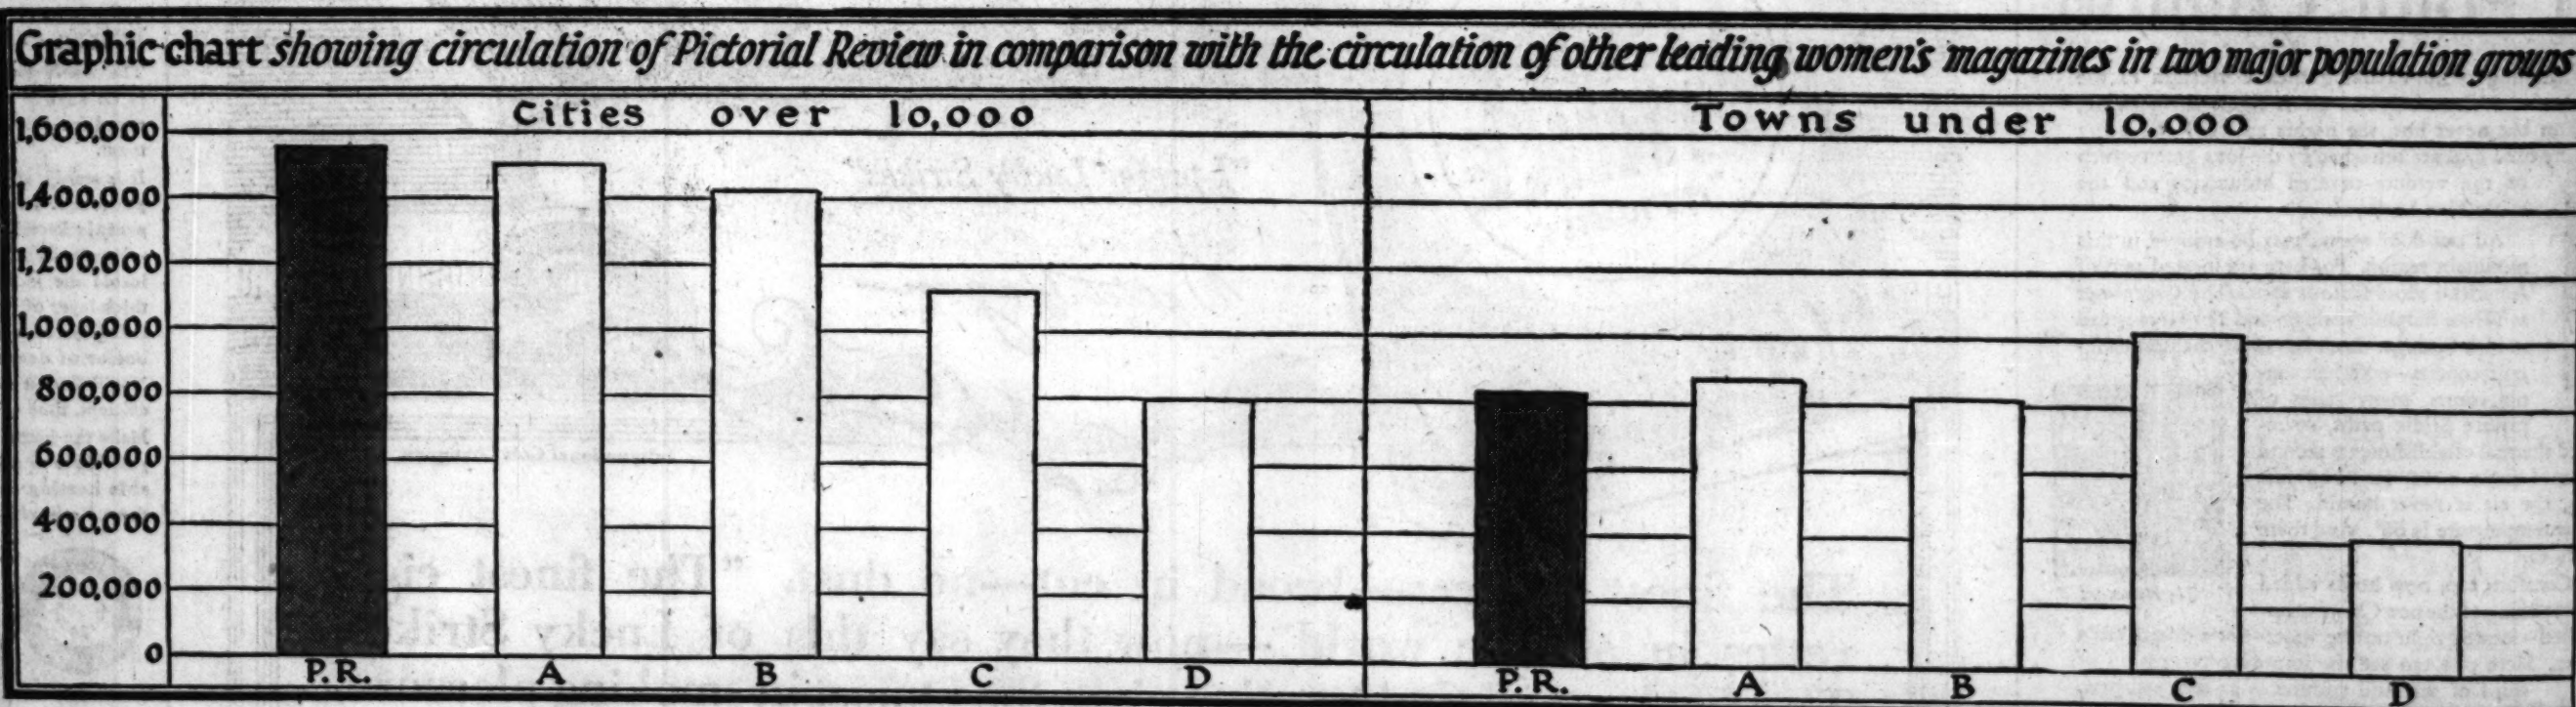

She is alertly interested in everything that has any bearing on her life—especially on those things which, material though they are, lend so much to cheerful and spacious living.

Her dollar is the dollar to bid for, for it is a dollar eager, ready, waiting to be spent; and because it will be followed with more dollars as her wants and her income increase. She is the person to sell to the backbone of the buying public the support of the retail merchant. There are millions of her—all wanting—all wanting hard enough to keep themselves constantly steeped in the buying urge.

She has the rights and privileges of your most favored customer—the right to be constantly advertised to.

Through, of course, Pictorial Review: outstanding avenue to her buying favor.

The circulation of Pictorial Review is also larger than that of any other women's magazine in towns ranging in population from 2,500 to 10,000.*

PICTORIAL REVIEW

At this time, when a number of the women's magazines are increasing their rates, the following will be of interest. All advertisers who will use a reasonable schedule in PICTORIAL REVIEW in 1929 will not be subject to any increase in rate for space used in 1930 in case it is necessary to change the rate due to our rise in circulation. Our average circulation for the first six months of this year was over 2,459,000 net paid and we expect that the second six months will be substantially higher.

Q.—WHO WON THE
OLYMPIC GAMES?
A.—EVERYBODYIt Depends on Whose Figures You Use.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.)
New York, Aug. 6.—Apparently there has been some cause for complaint in the performances of the American foot runners in the Olympic races at Amsterdam, but just what the grievance is I have not been able to determine,
except by the most diligent, not to say laborious, perusal of the writings of Mr. Charlie Paddock and those other great journalists, Lawson Robertson, head coach, and Bill Templeton, assistant coach.I have not yet come to the articles of Mr. Ray and Bob McAllister, but the combined reportorial genius of the Messrs. Paddock, Robertson, and Templeton cannot get the idea across in type, anything that Joe and Robert might say would only confuse the situation.It seems that by the American system of scoring the American athletes on the meet, and this being the case, reason for the discontent is rather scarcely. Of course it is true that by the Finnish system of scoring the meet was won by the Finns and that by the British system of scoring the British empire came out triumphant, but, no doubt, of that special brand of black known as True British.This there's the case.
Cuba was only one athlete to the congress, and that one, I read, at something, or drank something, or fell out of something to the extent that he was unable to perform on the field.
It is a varied and ingenious and so adaptable to the exigencies of large and microscopic nations are the Olympic systems of scoring that Cuba need only apply the appropriate system in order to come by a clear margin of victory from an intense and unexpected point to an infinite number of points over the nearest competitor.The persons who resuscitated the Olympic games apparently realized that had both the fury of a nation which has just been defeated in a 100 yard dash, and devised their table of scoring systems accordingly.By the American system of scoring, the United States finished first with 175 points to 102 for Finland, a wider margin than had been anticipated, but large enough, nevertheless, to permit of a sense of magnanimity and tolerance toward the Finns. The Finns doubtless feel the same sentiment with regard to the Americans and obviously nothing could be fairer or more pleasant than that.Depressed by Dining Saloon Murals.
It is reported in the cables that the American athletes, being quartered on the steamship President Roosevelt, were depressed by the murals and traces in the dining saloon and were unable to gambo on the paths with the maximum exaltation of spirit. Understandably, the American A. A. U. with all its machinery and score-boards, rubber stamps and forms to be filled out in triplicate, has never invented any device for measuring the emotional variation of the American athletes in various types of dining saloon. However, it would be interesting, though perhaps invidious, to compare the dining rooms of the Finns and the Americans and with that setback Nurm, Ritola and their compatriots.It was my impression when Mr.
Templeton was galloping hither and thither in the United States a few years ago that he was situated largely on hearing which had been defunct for a long time, and hunkers of bread that resembled nothing so much as a mildewed brick from a burnt-out moment. In fact, the only time Mr.
Templeton was in the press box; Mr.
Robertson was with the Fourth Estate, and so Mr. Templeton and Gen.
Douglas McArthur.
Journalism apparently is something that the athletes, their trainers and the managers just can't let alone. It would not become me to say that I would swing a larlat from where I was sitting at this moment and report as I am with the lance, or that I over ten journalists, all of whom can out-write and out-report any of the journalists numbered among the Olympic team.
Well, journalism is no part time occupation, and if the time has come when athletes and trainers can't stand on their ghost writers but must sit at the press box personally, the time also has come when the boys must choose one or the other.

WHEN THE YANKEE DEFENSE HELD

How New York stayed off defeat in the ninth inning when it seemed the Sox would score the winning run. With Metzler, Falk, and Kamm on base and one out, Clancy grounded to Mark Koenig, Yankee shortstop. Mark's throw to the catcher to force Metzler was wide, but Grabowski fell lengthwise to grab the ball for the out. Cissell then forced Bud to end the inning.

Here's another scoring opportunity for the White Sox. In the twelfth inning Johnny Mostil singled with two out and here is shown stealing second. He slid safely between Koenig's legs.

Tigers Check
Macks' March;
Triumph, 8 to 5

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Tigers checked the advance of the Athletics today by winning the third game of the series, 8 to 5. Neither Whitehill for Detroit nor Earnshaw for Philadelphia, the starting pitchers, finished. Whitehill was batted out in the seventh after three successive singles had scored two runs and Earnshaw was relieved by Rommel in the fourth when the Tigers scored three times. Rommel gave way to Quinn in the eighth. Harry Hellman got his second homer in two days. Score:

GOODYEAR TIRE BUSINESS BIGGER, PROFIT SMALLER

The volume of business of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company in the first half of this year exceeded considerably that of any previous six months period in the company's history. Earnings were considerably reduced, however, by the drastic decline in crude rubber values incident to removal of restriction on rubber exporting from the British producing areas.

Net sales amounted to $125,777,488, compared with $118,244,221 for the first half of 1927. President P. W. Litchfield said at his semi-annual report, issued last night. "The increase in the quantity of product sold was considerably greater than indicated by the increase in dollar sales because of lower selling prices prevailing this year."

"Total net profits credited to surplus were $1,000,000, after providing $4,000,000 for depreciation, after charging to special reserves $2,500,000 cost of crude rubber in excess of market price as of June 30, and after all other charges. The carrying over of finished product, which was carried over from the first half of 1927, is being estimated at $1,000,000, being practically liquidated during July and August without loss."

After applying $2,500,000 to the withdrawal of crude rubber, the balance of reserves was $1,000,000, which was not required for such purpose, was $1,750,000 which the company has deemed it advisable to carry forward for future contingencies.

Errata Fluctuations Now Improbable.

With the removal of governmental restriction upon crude rubber production and the decline of the market price of rubber more nearly to the cost of production, the menace of a highly fluctuating rubber market is largely removed from the time being; and the removed source to inventory losses, of a normal operating profit was reasonably to be expected from the company's present flourishing business

DEFAULT PRICE FOR JULY CORN IS FIXED AT $1.21

By CHARLES MICHAELS.

Traders who defaulted on contracts calling for the delivery of corn at the end of July will be forced to settle at approximately $1.21 per bushel, compared with the closing price of $1.15 1/2 on the final day of that month, according to the price determined by the special committee. The committee estimated the actual price of cash grain on July 31 to have been $1.12 1/2, but those who defaulted must also pay a penalty of 7 1/2 per cent for failure to fulfill their contracts.

Leading bulls expressed themselves as satisfied with the finding. It was the first time in several years that a price had had to be set at which defaulters would be forced to settle, and the July corn deal is said to have been the first speculative deal that has been attempted since the exchange started to operate under the provisions of the grain futures act. A majority of operators have been apprehensive of the regulations, and the fact that the government did not go to the assistance of those who sold short received favorable comment.

STATEMENT BY UPDIKE.

N. B. Updike, head of the Updike Grain company, the largest defaulter, operating for E. W. Backus, the Minneapolis lumberman, issued a statement saying: "During the period of July 14 to 30, a great deal of corn was bought by us to arrive that got in the elevators on time for us to ship it out. This corn was all bought at an average price of at least 70¢ below the spot price at Omaha the day it arrived. The man for whom we defaulted was kept posted and knew the value of the cash corn. The price was kept so high at Chicago by the people managing the squeeze, that corn was worth considerably more to ship on July contract than to ship in other directions so it is our opinion that July corn should never have sold in that month at over $1.04. If the market had been allowed to follow its natural course."

New Low on Wheat Futures.

Hedging pressure and selling by houses with foreign connections caused a lower range of wheat values yesterday, with all deliveries settling at a new low for the season, September declining 1/2¢ from Saturday's finish to a low of $1.14 1/2, or 3/4¢ under the outside figure of last week. Short covering and buying against bids caused a rally around noon from the bottom with the close at net losses of 1/4¢. December and March corn sold at a new low on the crop, and the September at a new low on the present movement. The latter received good support and rallied 1/2¢, and the finish was 1 1/2¢ lower, while the new crop months were 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ lower. Oats closed 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ lower with December and March at a new low for the season, while rye was 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ lower.

News generally was in favor of a lower level of wheat prices, with favorable weather and crop comments from the Canadian northwest, while spot premiums on spring wheat at Minneapolis are off 1/4¢ and Kansas City 1/2¢ in the last two days. The break in American markets brought No. 2 hard winter wheat in line for export, as compared with 50¢ to 60¢, and sales of 500,000 bu. were reported in all positions, largely because of the holiday in Liverpool. Winnipeg was also closed for the day. The market acted somewhat "oversold" on the decline, and an increase of $2,000,000 bu. in the visible supply had "little effect. Total is now $2,150,000 bu. against $2,447,000 bu. last year.

September Corn Balances. Scattered liquidation was in in September corn early, and the new crop months also acted heavy, with September down to 51 1/2¢ and December to 74 1/2¢, with a relatively slow cash demand and favorable weather and crop comments, but there was a good change of buying in the September on the break, especially after the settlement price on the July had been announced, and it rallied quickly. Visible supply increased 1,326,000 bu. for the week, and to 13,267,000 bu. against $2,150,000 bu. last year.

Oats and rye were influenced largely by the action of other grains. Trade was light and liquidation by three long was in evidence in oats and the basis in the sample market was 10¢ lower, compared with the September. Buying of rye against purchases of wheat by spreaders gave that grain fair support.

PIT NOTES

With lowest prices of the season on wheat and December corn and oats, there was a little support mostly in the way of profit taking. At the same time most traders were unable to see any good on the buying side for more than a temporary gain. There is a feeling among the corn bulls that the award of $1.15 1/2 by the July corn committee in fixing a price for the defaulters should tend to show that corn is worth relatively more money than present prices for September delivery which closed last night at 62 1/2¢, especially as No. 2 mixed corn was 97¢ to 98¢ in the sample market yesterday, with No. 2 yellow, $1.01, to $1.01 1/2, and No. 3, $1.00 to $1.00 1/2.

A little more corn is showing up than was expected, with 161 cars here yesterday. Short interest in September is believed to be heavy, and in December is heavier than on Aug. 1. There were 3,440 cars of grain in all positions in Chicago yesterday morning, compared with 3,958 cars a week ago, the latter being the largest in about a year. On Monday, July 30, there were 700 cars of grain unloaded into elevators here.

Foreigners were good sellers of wheat yesterday, while milling interests were buyers of cash and futures, particularly the latter. Elevator operators are taking the cash wheat here and selling futures. The wheat coming from Illinois is mainly hard winter and shows good quality, although a little too much dampness which lowers the grade. The wheat, however, with a little handling, can be made into No. 2 grade.

BUTTER AND EGGS LOWER

November eggs weakened under the weight of unfavorable statistics and finished 1/2¢ lower at 32 1/2¢. Storage holdings in the egg markets on Friday and Saturday decreased only 1,840 cases, compared to a decrease last year of 53,149 cases.
